"I will incline mine ear to a parable; I will open my dark saying on the harp."

Illinois Republican convention indicts the world court and endorses President Coolidge. "With thy faults, I love thee still!"

Premier Briand, undismayed by assuiling the awesome gowls, puts his warily on the head. "Nice piggy!"

The prohibitionists will probably be hanging Mayor Dever in the morning.

But Shakespeare's Magic could not copy'd be; within that Circle none durst walk but he. must confess 'twas bold, nor would you now that liberty to vulgar wits allow, which works by Magic's supernatural things, at Shakespeare's pow'r is sacred as a King's."

The flags of 63 nations are unrolled on the 362d anniversary of the day when we shall call, for the sake of a bit of novelty, the "Bard of Avon," but who can remember the name of the author of the play we saw week-before-last?

French tax collector grabs one of Clemenceau's chairs and makes him pay a debt of $10, but Clemenceau will never collect the debt that France owes him.

The railroad executives and brotherhoods can't see what right the public has to interfere in their legislation.

There is something singularly appropriate in President Coolidge accepting an invitation to the Williamsburg sesquicentennial on May 15, for Virginia and Massachusetts led the Colonial van in the pre-Revolutionary manoeuvres which culminated in the War of Independence. The Puritan and the Cavalier in this country have made a mighty good team.

Mr. Frazier solemnly proposes a Constitutional amendment that would prohibit the United States "from preparing for or engaging in offensive or defensive war," and makes the average piffing pacifist look like Mars springing full panoplied from the brain of Jove. It is difficult to conceive of any State legislature—even North Dakota's—passing such a mind through the Senatorial sieve—we can thank the direct primary for the Fraziers.

It is that House committee trying to insinuate that Commissioner Fenning worked both sides of the street?

It is to be doubted if a committee of an old-fashioned Senate would have reported that an impeachment trial could be conducted at a special session. However, it probably won't make any difference one way or another to Judge English.

France shows a flash of her old-time economic sagacity, and the settlement proposal is submitted. "Wilt thou seal up the avenues of ill?"

Pay every debt as if God wrote the bill."

Perhaps in expressing the opinion that the wet-and-dry committee will make no report Senator Harrell accepts the general view that the testimony speaks for itself.

The last survivor of John Brown's band is dead at 92, but his soul goes marching on.

Those Maryland forest fires caused a loss of $100,000 and yet the prohibition enforcement people have been claiming that Prince Georges was one of the wettest counties in the country.

Chicago woman once convicted of murdering her husband is finally acquitted when her attorney, in court, grabs a handful of the powder with which the prosecution charged she had poisoned him, and swallows it. "Faith, mighty faith the promise sees"

And rests on that alone; laughs at impossibilities, And says it shall be done."

Still, why doesn't Senator Harrell let Wayne B. Wheeler write the committee report—on blotting paper?

The Illinois State Democratic convention meets in the natorium, and George Brennan, in a bathing suit, writes the platform with a hose.

Dr. Grenfell tells an Epiphany church audience that there is no murder, no suicide, no thievery and no divorce among the natives of Labrador. We ought to send missionaries up there and civilize 'em—maybe they haven't even got boot-loggers.

FENNING TO APPEAR BEFORE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING ACTS

Will Reply to Charges of Usury in Veteran Work Today.

AUDIENCE CHEERS BLANTON'S ATTACK

Washington Attorney Says Court Perfunctory Signs Cases by Commissioner.

Commissioner Frederick L. Fenning will be called to appear this afternoon at 2 o'clock before the House District subcommittee. Two demonstrations against him occurred at the committee meeting last night.

Despite the warning of Chairman Gibson, of Vermont, an audience of approximately 800 persons cheered and applauded when Representative Blanton, of Texas, turned from his examination of Dr. W. A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeths hospital, to make stinging utterances concerning the commissioner. After the second outburst Mr. Gibson threatened to withhold further hearings from the public.

To what was described as the "deadly parallel" developed against the commissioner in the afternoon at the meeting of the House veterans committee, Crandall Mackey, Washington attorney, added another charge last night. It was that Mr. Fenning appeared before the court with a stack of his guardianship cases already prepared and that the court perfunctory signed them.

Unprecedented Action.

Mr. Mackey cited one order which had come down from the court directing that Mr. Fenning be paid 10 per cent guardianship fee. In all his 20 years' experience, he said, he had never before heard of the court specifying the amount.

Maj. Davis G. Arnold, head of the guardianship service of the veterans' bureau, produced two lists, one of 75 world war veterans, for which Mr. Fenning is guardian, and another of veterans for whom someone else is guardian.

Representative Milligan, of Missouri, developed, with Maj. Arnold agreeing, that in all the cases for which Mr. Fenning is guardian he received the maximum commission of 10 per cent, while on the other list the commissions ran from 3 to 6 per cent, the maximum being paid in only two instances.

Fees Called Excessive.

Even on the list of cases in which others than Mr. Fenning appeared as guardian, his name frequently appeared as "attorney," for which he received fees as high as $300.

Representative Milligan declared such fees to be excessive, in view of the nature of work which an attorney in such a case has to perform.

"Do you not think it strange," Mr. Milligan asked Maj. Arnold, "that Mr. Fenning gets the maximum commission in every case while other guardians seldom receive it?"

"Well, I think Mr. Fenning figures in 'attorney' service," replied Maj. Arnold.

"The same clerk does all the work; it's just a matter of clerical routine," he said.

Marshall to Prison From 10 to 20 Years

Philadelphia, April 23 (By A. P.).—Davis L. Marshall, convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Anna May Dietrich, was today refused a new trial and sentenced to 10 to 20 years in the Eastern State penitentiary.

Marshall, who dismembered the body of the woman and hid the severed parts in the woods near Philadelphia, took the sentence calmly.

One Brother to Die, Other Gets Life Term

Norwalk, Ohio, April 23 (By A. P.).—Leonard and James Lyon, brothers, were sentenced today for the murder of Frank E. McGrath, special agent of the American Railway Express Co., February 18.

James, found guilty of first degree murder by a jury last night, was sentenced to die in the electric chair August 3. Leonard unexpectedly pleaded guilty to second degree murder today and was sentenced to life imprisonment. The brothers were captured in Lachine, Mich., last month after Chief of Police Douglas Mackenzie, of Alpena, Mich., was shot while questioning them.

Clemenceau Furniture Seized for $10 Tax Fine

Paris, April 23 (By A. P.).—Having refused to pay a $10 penalty for delay in settling a tax bill, Georges Clemenceau, war premier, recently was subjected to seizure of a piece of furniture from his modest apartment in Passy. He bought the furniture back from the tax collectors' emissaries, however, before it could be taken away.

The story, as told by the weekly paper, Aux Eclaires, is that the "Tiger" wasn't notified when his taxes fell due. When he finally got a summons, he went to the collector's office. That official proved stubborn, and Clemenceau refused to pay. He ignored later summonses. Then the agents seized the furniture.

Aux Eclaires concludes its account by asking indignantly: "Can one imagine Britain executing a tax judgment against Nelson, or Germany against Bismarck?"

STOCKS AND BONDS UP AFTER BANK RATE CUT

Outburst of Buying Sends Many Shares Soaring 1 to 6 Points.

AID TO BUSINESS IS SEEN

New York, April 23 (By the Associated Press).—The stock market, which has been on the down grade since the first of March, turned abruptly upward today as a result of a tremendous outburst of buying inspired by the lowering of the New York Federal Reserve discount rate. The bond market also gave an impressive demonstration of strength, all three United States Treasury loans attaining the highest prices ever recorded, while total sales exceeded $21,000,000, the second largest in the history of the exchange. A sweeping reduction in money rates followed the lower bank rate.

Wall Street's bullish interpretation of the lower bank rate was based on the theory that it would stimulate business by reducing borrowing rates, and it indicated that the decline in prices had proceeded sufficiently far to correct the top-heavy speculative position displayed by the gigantic volume of brokers' loans outstanding early in the year. These since have been reduced by nearly $700,000,000, bringing the total, according to Federal Reserve figures, down to $2,355,339,000 for the week ended April 11.

"The action of the Federal Reserve Bank was the best thing it could do," said one authority.

Kellogg Reassures Catholics on Mexico

(By the Associated Press.) Assurances that the State Department will watch vigilantly the course of events in Mexico's treatment of the clergy was given yesterday by Secretary Kellogg to a group of Catholic laymen from Philadelphia.

Secretary Kellogg related all that the department has been doing for the protection of persons and property in Mexico and promised to take notice of whatever might prove a basis of protest in the treatment of priests and ministers. Senator Pepper (Republican), Pennsylvania, accompanied the delegation to the State Department.

TORNADO KILLS 1; 11 DIE IN TEXAS FLOOD

Woman Dead, Several Hurt in Oklahoma Storm; Many Homes Destroyed.

Armore, Okla., April 23 (By A. P.).—Mrs. Angie Callons, 23, was almost instantly killed, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morton were perhaps fatally injured and a young girl severely cut in a tornado which struck near Fillmore, in Johnston county, late today. Five farm homes were demolished. The storm also struck the village of Colman, ten miles southeast of Fillmore, causing minor injuries to half dozen persons.

Dallas, Tex., April 23 (By A. P.).—The lower watersheds of the Texas plains tonight were still carrying heavy burdens of flood waters from torrential rains that fell the middle of the week. The lower reaches of the rivers tonight were flooding the lowlands, causing heavy loss of live stock and crops.

A total of eleven deaths has been reported since Wednesday, as a result of storms and floods. Flood warnings for all eastern Texas rivers were issued by the weather bureau today.

BERENGER PRESENTS OFFER FROM FRANCE ON FUNDING OF DEBT

Details Are Kept Secret; Officials Optimistic of Settlement.

AMERICANS TO STUDY NEW PROPOSAL TODAY

Senate Refuses to Reconsider Italian Pact—Reed Assails Coolidge and Mellon.

(By the Associated Press.)

France came forward yesterday with a new offer to settle her $4,000,000,000 war debt, and shortly afterward the Senate decisively refused to reconsider its approval of the $2,000,000,000 Italian debt settlement.

The French proposal, details of which were closely guarded, was submitted formally to the American debt commission by Ambassador Berenger, who has full power to act for his government, and it will be considered by the Americans at a session today.

The new offer was received in a general atmosphere of optimism with official expressions of hopefulness from the White House and elsewhere that a settlement can be arranged and that it would mean a long step in the direction of stabilizing world finances.

Awaits Coolidge's Signature. The Senate action on the Italian debt completed the last executive action to bring the agreement into force. It will become effective as soon as President Coolidge affixes his signature.

Senator Reed (Democrat), Missouri, moved for reconsideration so the Senate might consider amendments by which Italy would upon demand furnish bonds to the American government in the amount of principal and interest. This motion was voted down, however, by almost as decisive a majority as that on Wednesday to approve the agreement. The vote yesterday was 43 to 24 and on Wednesday it was 54 to 33.

While the new French offer was not made public there were definite indications that it went further toward meeting America's demands than the proposal of the unsuccessful Calliaux mission of last summer.

The sixty-eight year settlement program advanced by Minister Calliaux for France at that time is understood to have been reduced to 62 years, the basis of agreement with other debtor nations. It also is understood that France will not insist upon the guarantee clause relieving it of payment in the event Germany fails to meet its reparations.

$25,000,000 First Year. France also is understood to be ready to pay $25,000,000 annually, including this year, and to graduate its payments to $100,000,000 annually, so as to meet its full debt.

Representatives of the two nations lost little time in getting down to business. The usual welcoming (CONTINUED ON PAGE 4, COLUMN 2.)

Irish Women, Hurling Eggs, Rout Policemen

Tuam, Galway, Ireland, April 23 (By A. P.).—A barrage of eggs, fired by women and girls, forced the retreat of a detachment of Free State police who entered this district searching for stolen cattle. When the egg supply ran out the policemen advanced again only to find the women armed with sticks. A hand-to-hand struggle ensued, in which the police finally gained the upper hand. The cattle were recovered.

Pastor Is Unseated; Criticized Parents

Louisville, Ky., April 23 (By A. P.).—His charge in a sermon that parents of his congregation were not devoting the proper amount of attention to their children has resulted in unseating of the Rev. L. W. Benedict, pastor of the Parkland Baptist church here, but the pastor refuses to abide by the decision.

Recently the pastor won his point at a regular meeting of the church, which has a membership of 1,160, by a majority of 6 votes, but later said the announcement was "just a joke" and was not true.

Mrs. Frey instituted suit for $100,000 against Miss Bennett in 1924, alleging that the actress induced Frey, a horseman, to leave his wife.

Calliaux Offer Reported Increased $540,000,000

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Paris, April 23.—Reports emanating today from political and financial sources, purported to state the terms of the latest French offer to fund its debt to the United States.

It was reported that the new proposal provides for a total payment of $6,740,000,000 over a period of 62 years, which is $540,000,000 more than the Calliaux offer.

The annual payment from 1926 to 1930 would be $25,000,000, according to the report. The payment in 1931 would be $80,000,000; in 1932, $40,000,000; 1933, $50,000,000; 1934, $60,000,000; 1935, $70,000,000; 1936, $80,000,000; 1937, $90,000,000; 1938, $100,000,000; 1939, $110,000,000; 1940, $115,000,000; 1941, $120,000,000, and from 1942 to 1988, $125,000,000.

WHITE STAR SHIPS' SALE FOR $35,000,000 LIKELY

Offer Is Considered; Cunard Line Expected to Obtain Control Eventually.

OTHER INTERESTS BID

New York, April 23 (By A. P.).—The famous White Star fleet of trans-Atlantic liners, including one of the world's largest ships, the Majestic, probably will pass to the control of British interests who have submitted an offer for the line to the International Mercantile Marine Corporation. The transaction, it is understood, will involve approximately $35,000,000 and will eventually place the White Star ships under the operation of the Cunard Line, although the Furness-Withy interests also were reported to be bidders.

Directors of the Marine Corporation considered the offer today, but J. H. Thomas, vice president, announced after the meeting that there were no developments which called for comment.

Final approval of the deal, it is expected will be announced next week in London, where P. A. S. Franklin, president of the corporation has been negotiating with the bidders.

The White Star Line is officially known as the Oceanic Navigation Co. and is capitalized at 5,000,000 pounds sterling, all its stock being owned by the International Mercantile Marine Corporation. In addition to the Majestic, it operates the Olympic, Homeric, Adriatic, Cedric, Arabic and other well known liners.

British interests shortly after the war offered to purchase the White Star Line, but at that time the government's desire to maintain the strength of the American mercantile marine was a factor which prevented the sale.

27 Koreans Executed By Russia, Is Report

Tokyo, April 24 (By A. P.).—The foreign office has received a report from the Japanese consul at Harbin, Manchuria, that 27 Koreans, Japanese subjects, have been seized and executed in Siberian territory by Russian authorities, who charged the Koreans with smuggling.

The executions are reported to have occurred across the Siberian border from Chientao, Manchuria, which is in the region southwest of Vladivostok, where Siberia, Manchuria and Korea converge. The foreign office is investigating.

MISS BENNETT BRIDE OF ALBREAU, DANCER

Ordered to Pay $37,500 for Alienation, Actress Weds Another.

New York, April 23 (By A. P.).—Wilda Bennett, actress who recently lost a $37,500 verdict in an alienation of affections suit, brought by Mrs. Katherine M. Frey, of Louisville, Ky., is married again, the Herald-Tribune will say tomorrow, but not to Charles C. Frey, whose love she was charged with stealing.

"She was married in Jersey City, N. J., April 11, to Abraham de Albreau, known also as Pepe de Albreau, a cabaret dancer. On January 19, Miss Bennett announced her marriage to De Albreau, but later said the announcement was "just a joke" and was not true.

Mrs. Frey instituted suit for $100,000 against Miss Bennett in 1924, alleging that the actress induced Frey, a horseman, to leave his wife.

DRY ISSUE DECLARED TO ABSORB EFFORTS NEEDED ELSEWHERE

Other Problems Forced to Be Slighted, Says Chicago Mayor.

CALLS ON CONGRESS TO FACE SITUATION

Wheeler May Testify Today; Brig. Gen. Andrews to Resume Stand.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Declaring that the whole structure of government in America's large cities is being affected by prohibition and that the wet and dry issue has absorbed and demoralized every other consideration, William E. Dever, mayor of Chicago, pleaded with the Senate committee yesterday to face the facts and do something to provide relief.

He did not profess to say what should be done. But he insisted that something should be done and he warned against letting an intolerable state of affairs indefinitely continue.

The mayor warned also against trying to force laws "down the throats" of great city populations which do not believe in the laws which the authorities seek to impose. He gave a specific warning against proposals, emanating from certain dry quarters, that the home stills should be routed out of the homes of the city people. He expressed doubt whether the police of Chicago would carry out such orders if the orders were given and he further intimated that the people themselves would rise up against any such attempted practice, if it were tried.

"There comes a time when public opinion won't stand for even legal methods," he said.

Goff Congratulates Mayor. But Mayor Dever, nevertheless, said he construed his plain duty to be to enforce the law as he found it and not question the law's efficiency while enforcing it. His testimony was therefore an appeal for a change coupled with an avowed determination to do his duty in the future, under the present unsatisfactory law, as he says he has done in the past.

The mayor was congratulated by Senator Goff, dry member of the committee, when he concluded. His testimony, which was the feature of yesterday's hearings, made a marked impression on both sides.

Today may bring the end of the hearings. The modifications have used up all of their time excepting about an hour. The dries have two hours and 20 minutes left. In the hope of making a final showing, the dries asked Senator Harrell, chairman of the committee, to give them a larger hall today. Mr. Harrell put the matter to the committee.

"If you want to make a Roman holiday of it, go ahead," said Senator Reed.

John Brown Band Survivor Dies at 92

Salina, Kans., April 23 (By A. P.).—Luke F. Parsons, 92, last survivor of the John Brown band, and of the battle of Osawatomie, died at his home here today, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Parsons took a prominent part in many of the stirring events that marked the early struggles of Kansas for freedom, and was identified with some of the earliest Salina county history. He was the first sheriff of the county, at a time when its territory comprised the land from Salina west to the State line.

Poison Sent to Genna Gangster in His Food

Chicago, April 23 (By A. P.).—Enough poison to kill several men was found in food taken to the county jail for John Scallise, a gunman under a prison sentence for the murder of a policeman, it was learned today.

The food was taken to Scallise's cell yesterday by a woman, his former landlady, and when he noticed a peculiar taste he refused to eat more. Scallise is one of the Genna gang which engaged a police squad in a street battle resulting in the killing of three men, two of them policemen.

WET PLANK IS ADOPTED BY ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS

Brennan Tells the Convention Fight Must Be Made on Prohibition Issue.

G. O. P. AVOIDS QUESTION

Springfield, Ill., April 23 (By A. P.).—Cries of "sit down" interrupted the State Democratic convention this afternoon when Frank Warren, candidate for representative in Congress, voiced a protest against the wet plank, sponsored by George E. Brennan, candidate for senator. The plank declared for "practical temperance rather than theoretical prohibition."

"Prohibition is democracy's child," Warren shouted, "and should not be deserted. We cannot win with such a plank."

The motion to discard the "wet plank was defeated, 876 to 132. The Republican convention adjourned after a harmony session, which endorsed the administration of President Coolidge and Gov. Small, condemned the world court and League of Nations and declared for "law enforcement."

Col. Frank L. Smith, Republican candidate for senator, in an address, declared his independence of any influence save that of Republican traditions and pleaded that the United States be kept out of the "strife and machinations of foreign lands."

The Republican platform avoided all mention of liquor or the Volstead act, the wet plank of (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5, COLUMN 2.)

Gov. Moore Stops Strike Mediation

Passaic, N. J., April 23 (By A. P.).—Gov. Moore today abandoned his attempt to end the 13 weeks' textile strike with the announcement that neither side sincerely desired to settle.

The governor called off the first session of his mediation commission after having been informed that Albert Weisbord, youthful strike organizer, intended to come to the meeting, which was to be held in this city. Henry F. Hillers, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor and proponent of the mediation commission, said Weisbord had withdrawn previous agreements not to attend.

Accompanied by Col. Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, they went to the Capitol and urged Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the Senate Interstate commerce committee, to utilize every effort to obtain immediate action on the bill. Just what encouragement they received is not known, but they returned to their headquarters seemingly particularly well pleased over the outlook. It was understood that they were told the bill probably would be reached for consideration early in May, possibly about the 6th or 8th, but that this assurance was entirely unsatisfactory to the railway chiefs.

The presidents emphasized that in their opinion, unless the so-called Watson-Parker bill, which abolishes the Railway Labor Board and sets up machinery for mediation by system and creates a national mediation body of five members, who, in the event that they were unable to settle disputes between the railroads and their employees through backing up local mediation would, under the direction of the President, "find and publish the facts," becomes law, the interests of the country will be badly jeopardized. It was these presidents who drafted the bill, in conjunction with Donald Richberg and the heads of the organized brotherhoods. It represented conferences which extended over many months, and was hailed by both sides as certain to inaugurate an era of lasting peace on the transportation lines.

A minority of the railroads, headed by L. F. Loeve, of the Delaware & Hudson railway, opposed the bill and wanted the present law continued unchanged. There were 20 of the dissenting roads, representing 38,664 miles of railways originally. The mediation plan had the approval of 52 (CONTINUED ON PAGE 3, COLUMN 6.)

13 RAIL PRESIDENTS URGE PASSAGE SOON OF LABOR MEASURE

Possibility of National Trouble Outlined to Senator Watson.

GROUP FEARS BILL WILL FAIL IN JAM

70 Pledges in Upper House Reported; Executives Plan Immediate Campaign.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

Possibility of a general railway strike, paralyzing the entire transportation system of the nation, became apparent again yesterday.

Thirteen presidents of the largest transportation corporations dropped their affairs to come to Washington to try to obtain action on the so-called labor peace bill now on the Senate calendar. They had no hesitancy in giving as their view that unless this measure is passed at the present session "there can be no assurance against serious public inconvenience resulting from the existing wage disputes."

Coming as it did on the solemn warning carried to the White House a few days ago by Donald Richberg, general counsel for the organized railway brotherhoods, that unless the bill was passed "labor would believe that it had been betrayed," the action of the executives was significant. Richberg flatly told the President that there were more than 70 Senators pledged to the bill, that it was on the calendar and that if it was "permitted" to come to a vote there was no question that it would receive the approval of the upper house, it already having passed the lower body by an overwhelming vote.

Executives in Washington. The railway presidents who came to ask for action by the Senate included W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania; J. H. Hustis, of the Boston & Maine; A. C. Needles, president Norfolk & Western; W. R. Cole, president Louisville & Nashville; Hale Holden, president Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Carl R. Gray, president Union Pacific system; Charles Donnelly, president Northern Pacific; W. R. Scott, president Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana; E. E. Loomis, president Lehigh Valley; C. H. Markham, president Illinois Central; I. W. Baldwin, president Missouri Pacific; Daniel Willard, president Baltimore & Ohio, and P. E. Crowley, president of the New York Central lines.

Accompanied by Col. Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, they went to the Capitol and urged Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, chairman of the Senate Interstate commerce committee, to utilize every effort to obtain immediate action on the bill. Just what encouragement they received is not known, but they returned to their headquarters seemingly particularly well pleased over the outlook. It was understood that they were told the bill probably would be reached for consideration early in May, possibly about the 6th or 8th, but that this assurance was entirely unsatisfactory to the railway chiefs.

D. A. R. ADDRESSED BY DAWES ON DUTIES OF VICE PRESIDENT

Calls Self Official Listener of Senate and Diner-Out of Administration.

WILBUR AND JARDINE ALSO MAKE SPEECHES

New Officers Are Presented and Visit Is Paid to Tomb of Washington.

That his two outstanding duties as Vice President are to serve as "official listener of the United States Senate" and "official diner-out of the administration," was the assertion of Vice President Dawes in a brief address at the session of the D. A. R. congress last night in the new auditorium.

Mr. Dawes drew a hearty laugh when he declared that he suffered from a minimum of home cooking, and as official listener of the Senate from a superabundance of oratory.

In his introduction of the Vice President, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president general, reminded the delegates that he was a direct descendant of Rufus Dawes, the colonial patriot, associated with Paul Revere on his famous ride.

Calls Him President.

Mrs. Cook in her introduction called him "President," at which the Vice President joined in the laugh. When he began his address he, in turn, called his hosts "Daughters of the American Revolution," but with skill he diverted the mistake by affirming that the D. A. R. are the most resolute body in the world.

The Vice President said he had heard the speeches at the D. A. R. congress described as short and snappy and that the delegates knew when to quit when they got through and he wished the same thing could be said of the members of the United States Senate.

The Vice President praised the work of women in national life, and said in particular:

"Just between us girls, I used to be against woman suffrage. It was only when I was elected to my present office that I changed my mind. In the last campaign I began to see the woman at work, and I do not care whether she is a Democrat or a Republican, a wet or a dry, the American woman believes in what she works for and is the bulwark of all good things in our American life."

Ignores Fight on Rules.

The Vice President made no allusion to his fight to change the rules of the Senate of the Constitution," he said, "is in the fact that it is the ultimate judgment of the American people of what is sound and just and is guarded by a wonderful system of checks and balances which prevents the passing of laws of the public to evolve into laws. That's why the American nation has lasted, will last and why our government is regarded as the greatest advancement of the happiness of mankind."

The Secretary of the Navy, Curtis D. Wilbur, who was present on the platform, but not on the program of the evening was introduced to the audience and said a few words of greeting. Miss Janet Richards, charter member of the D. A. R., told of the early struggles of the society, its founders and many interesting points of its 55 years of history.

Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine followed Vice President Dawes. The secretary called the attention of the delegates to the fact that many of the revolutionary leaders were farmers, including George Washington and Thomas Jefferson.

In those early days, he said, the country was overwhelmingly agricultural, with industrial centers not developed, while today the balance has turned toward the city. He urged men and women of today, even if not engaged in agriculture, to recognize the importance of farming.

The speaker predicted that co-operative organizations, in handling the product of the farmer, are going to increase. Agriculture needs better credit facilities than it now possesses, he declared.

In conclusion, Secretary Jardine said that the improvement of social conditions on the farm would follow the improvement in the economic situation of agriculture.

Headed by their president, general, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, and her national board of management and the president general-elect, Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, the delegates made a patriotic pilgrimage to Mount Vernon yesterday afternoon to lay wreaths on the tomb of George and Martha Washington.

Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, of the last Washington who was born at Mount Vernon, was honorary chairman of the delegates for the pilgrimage, and Mrs. William J. Morton, chairman.

Mrs. Brosseau Presented.

Mrs. Albert J. Brosseau, the new president general of the D. A. R., and the other successful candidates in Thursday's elections were presented to the congress after the reading of the minutes yesterday morning. Mrs. Brosseau was given an ovation when she appeared on the platform wearing a gray chiffon robe and carrying a large bouquet, the gift of admirers.

Mrs. Brosseau thanked the delegates for her election and pledged herself to their service for the next three years, and paid tribute to the administration of Mrs. Cook, the retiring president general. The other new officials also were presented and made brief talks.

Mrs. John Trigg Moss, of St. Louis, chairman of the committee on resolutions for that committee to the consideration of the delegates. Among those of special interest to Washington was one endorsing bills to establish the woman's bureau of the Metropolitan police department by law. This was adopted unanimously. Another resolution endorsed the bill for the building of a national highway between Washington and Mount Vernon.

A banquet at the Willard hotel tonight will be the last social function of the congress.

Conferees Disagree On Parkway Bill

Senate and House conferees reported their inability to agree yesterday on the bill authorizing the completion of the $600,000 Rock Creek-Potomac parkway project.

As passed by the House the $600,000 would come solely out of the District revenues. The Senate amended the bill to provide that the Federal government should share half of the expense, as provided in the original authorization of the project.

Conference Elects Brayshaw President

John Brayshaw was elected president of the Baltimore Conference Sunday School council, which met yesterday in the Mount Vernon Place church. Mrs. Lucia B. Harbo was elected secretary-treasurer. Judge M. L. Walton, chairman of the board of the Baltimore conference, presided.

R. K. Nevitt, conference superintendent of Sunday school work, and Miss Etta Mai Russell, elementary superintendent, reported on the work of the conference, and O. V. Wooley, conference superintendent of the western North Carolina conference, told of the work done in his district. Miss Aileen Moon, superintendent of girls' work in Nashville, Tenn., told of her work.

BURLINGAME ADMITS MODIFYING PREVIOUS TESTIMONY ON WAN

At Second Trial Said He Got Address From Telegraph Company, Not Li.

WITNESS IS QUESTIONED BY ATTORNEY LAMBERT

Police Captain Says That He Altered Story After Conference With Horning.

Capt. Guy Burlingame, formerly a detective sergeant and now head of the police "flying squadron," was the principal witness at the Wan murder trial yesterday. His appearance led to frequent wrangling between the opposing counsel, and had the effect of crowding the court room with spectators.

Capt. Burlingame had discarded his rum-hunting regalia and was attired in the blue and gold uniform of his rank when he took the stand. He was cross-examined by Wilton J. Lambert, chief of the defense counsel.

The captain told how he and Headquarters Detective Edward Kelly found Ziang Sun Wan, the defendant, in New York City, in a house the day following discovery of the Chinese triple murder here. Wan is now charged with killing Ben Sen Wu, one of the victims of that crime.

Discovered the Murder.

Dr. Kang Li, who discovered the murder in the Chinese Educational mission, and who now is the government's star witness, accompanied Burlingame and Kelly on the trip to New York. It was over him that the attorneys yesterday had their chief dispute.

At his second trial of Wan, Capt. Burlingame testified that it was Dr. Li who told him where Wan was, and a few days later he took the stand and explained that, while Dr. Li had told him Wan was in New York, the exact address was obtained from a telegraph company.

Under cross-examination by Attorney Lambert, Capt. Burlingame admitted yesterday that he modified his story after a conference with United States Attorney George D. Horning, Jr.

Capt. Burlingame told how Dr. Li was instrumental in having Wan return to this city to "help" clear up the triple murder.

Both Might Be Suspected.

"Either one of us, or both of us, might be suspected of the murder," Dr. Li told Wan, according to Capt. Burlingame.

After Dr. Li said this, the captain testified, Wan agreed to come here. Before that, the witness said, Wan had deliberately lied to him. When he first asked Wan when he left this city, the captain testified, the Chinese replied that he left January 27. But when he saw Dr. Li, the captain said, Wan lied to him on January 29. The murder is believed to have been committed that night.

Attorney Lambert questioned Capt. Burlingame at length over the action of Dr. Li in asking Wan to write his name in a notebook on the trip down from New York. When this was done, the police knew nothing of the $5,000 check which Wan, Van's brother, sought to cash at the Riggs Bank the day after the murder. The government contends that Wan forged the name of one of the murdered men on this check.

When the defense is trying to bring out why Dr. Li should ask Wan for a sample of his writing when even the police did not know that a sample might be needed.

One stage of the cross-examination, Attorney Lambert told Capt. Burlingame not "to look at Maj. Gordon, the prosecuting attorney, before you answer."

More excitement was caused when Maj. Gordon found Attorney Rudolph H. Yeatman looking through the notebook in which Wan had signed his name. Maj. Gordon insisted that the defense counsel had no right to look at anything but the page on which the name was written, and Justice Adolph Hoehling sustained him.

Former Detective Charles Bradley, who preceded Capt. Burlingame on the stand, testified that he had visited the mission house about 9 o'clock the night of January 29. He said he saw only one hat on the hat-rack and that the time amounted to more than $20 a month. He proposed an investigation by Congress into the subject.

Store 20-Year Club Holds Dinner Tonight

The Twenty Year club, of Woodward & Lothrop store members, will hold its annual good-fellowship dinner this evening at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Raleigh.

The club is composed of employees of the store who have been 20 or more years in the service of the firm of Woodward & Lothrop department store.

WILT RITES TO BE TODAY.

G. A. R. Will Conduct Services for Veteran at Residence Here.

Funeral services for Jeremiah Wilt, 84-year-old civil war veteran, who died at his home, 1215 N street northwest, Thursday, will be held this afternoon at the residence. The Lincoln post, Grand Army of the Republic, will conduct the service. Burial will be in Rock Creek cemetery.

Mr. Wilt was born in Gettysburg, Pa., in 1842 and enlisted in the Sixth corps of the Union army, serving until the close of the war. He came to Washington in 1877, and was proprietor of a grocery store at Fifteenth and H streets northwest until 1902. No relatives survive.

McMillan Heads South Carolina Club

Representative Thomas S. McMillan was unanimously elected president of the South Carolina Society of Washington, which held its annual banquet in Wardman Park hotel last night.

P. H. McGowan was elected vice president; Miss Harriet Godfrey, secretary; Miss Isla Willoughby, treasurer; Mrs. A. H. Gasque, historian. The following were elected members of the council: P. H. McGowan, chairman; F. W. McMaster, Woodrow, Miss Mary Ball, L. Boykin, and Miss Grace Roper. All the elections were unanimous.

Dr. E. W. Sikes, president of Clemson college, was the guest of honor. R. L. Dunlap, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, also spoke. Miss Lucile Nelson, of Charleston, sang and Capt. Quincy Newman acted as toastmaster.

New York Delegates To Be Guests Here

Delegates to the annual session of the electrotechnical commission which met in New York recently will be the guests today of Washington business men, officials and government officials. They will arrive at 7 o'clock this morning and will be received by R. H. Dagles, Frederick T. F. Dumont, E. W. McCullough and O. C. Merrill, representing the government and various organizations.

Secretary Hoover will address them at a dinner tonight in the Mayflower hotel, at which John Hoyt will preside. Women accompanying the delegates will be taken to Mount Vernon this afternoon, under the auspices of Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. N. C. Grover.

Speaker Says Divorce Unknown in Labrador

There is no murder, no suicide, no thieves and no divorce in Labrador, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, who has conducted medical stations in that region since 1892, declared last night, speaking in Epiphany church before an audience that filled the parish hall to overflowing and was forced to move into the church.

Dr. Grenfell is in Washington encouraging interest in the Washington branch of the Grenfell association. He told of the life and customs of the people of Labrador and of his medical work there. Bishop Freeman presided. Boy and girl scouts acted as ushers.

Escaped Prisoner Arrested With Girl

The seven months of liberty he enjoyed since his escape from Occoquan ended last night for Oscar Rosser, 22 years old, following his arrest in Reading, Pa., as he was about to elope to Germany with an 18-year-old school teacher. He was returned to this city by detectives.

Rosser was sentenced to a year in Occoquan on charges of breaking into two houses in the northeast section two years ago. He escaped last October after serving six months and was taken early this year in Lansdale, Pa., but effected another escape. Reading police traced him and his sweetheart as they were buying railroad tickets to New York. Rosser is a native of Germany, coming to this country four years ago.

Coolidge to Attend Williamsburg Fete

(By the Associated Press.)

President Coolidge accepted yesterday an invitation to attend the sequentennial at Williamsburg, Va.

The celebration is to be in observance of the adoption by the Virginia legislature of a resolution looking to the independence of the colonies from Great Britain. The invitation for the President to attend was extended recently by Representative Montague, of Virginia, and a delegation from the Virginia legislature.

Defense of Pullman Porter Made in House

(By the Associated Press.)

The Pullman porter, with his ever-deadly whiskbroom, was defended in the House yesterday by Representative Celler (Democrat) of New York, as really a subject of exploitation himself.

He said the porters and maids got only an average wage of $870 a year and that their time amounted to more than $20 a month. He proposed an investigation by Congress into the subject.

Gasoline Shortage Denied.

The American motorist of today demands a better quality of gasoline rather than a large quantity, W. G. Leamon told members of the Washington section, Society of Automotive Engineers, at the Cosmos club last night. He said there was no need to fear a shortage of gasoline for at least three more generations.

MARYLAND FOREST FIRE LOSS NEARLY $100,000

Forest Conflagration Believed to Have Been Started by Fleeing Bootleggers.

RELIEF FUND IS RAISED

Smoldering embers are all that remain of the spectacular forest fires that threatened several Maryland towns Thursday. Nearly $100,000 damage was done to standing timber and farm property. Three fires burned fiercely Thursday afternoon and night and well into yesterday morning. Residents of the territory affected, and firemen from most of the towns in Prince Georges county, assisted by Washington firemen, fought a losing battle with the flames until a cessation of the wind gave an opportunity to combat the fires.

One of the fires near Forestville, Md., is said to have been started by an escaping bootlegger who still was being raided by dry agents. The agents, under the command of T. E. Hartman, surprised the still operator who escaped through the heavy undergrowth and threw matches into the dry broomsage to deter pursuit. Chief Probation Agent Robert L. Livingston was notified and went to the scene. The still and another nearby still were dynamited shortly before the fire reached them.

Two other fires in southern Maryland, near Leonardtown, were captured and dynamited by agents who were conducting a special drive in that section.

Fifteen square miles of forest land were burned over in Anne Arundel county, Md. Midshipmen from Annapolis assisted Washington and volunteer firemen in battling the flames which raged in that section.

A relief fund has been started in Annapolis for persons made homeless by the fire which burned six houses to the ground and burned two tobacco farms with a loss of more than $100,000 at Davidsonville.

Residents of the fire-swept sections yesterday watched hopefully the overcast skies that promised to pour forth the rainy relief needed to definitely end the danger of wind stirring the dying embers to renewed activity.

Mt. Rainier Council Candidates Named

Opposing candidates for the offices of councilmen at Mt. Rainier, Md., in the three wards in which the present terms expire, were nominated last night at a meeting of the board of election supervisors at Mt. Rainier. The election will be held May 2.

In the second ward, Warren W. James, incumbent, will be opposed by Philip J. Dorr; in the third ward, Dr. H. T. Clayton, incumbent, will be opposed by Floyd B. Mathias, and in the fourth ward the opposing candidates will be Bert E. Sager, incumbent, and Robert E. Joyce.

Freshman Student Own Lawyer in Court

Cast in the role of both defendant and attorney for the defense, Edward Hoopes, freshman at George Washington university law school, last night in traffic court defended his case so ably that Judge Gus A. Eshelbourn complimented him, although he found him guilty.

Hoopes was charged with speeding at 33 miles an hour on the speedway. His defense was illustrated with diagram drawings of the scene.

NO ANIMALS EXIST ON ANTARCTIC LAND, STEFANSSON SAYS

Belief Even in Governmental and Scientific Quarters Is Exploded.

SEARCH FOR CONTINENT IN NORTH IS RIDICULED

Reviving of Theory Criticized
After It Is Held to Have Been Disproved.

New York, April 23 (By A. P.).—Belief even in governmental and scientific quarters that polar bears inhabit the south polar regions was exploded tonight by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, in an address before the annual dinner of the New York alumni association of Western conference universities.

"The most striking thing about the antarctic continent, which is bigger than Australia," said Mr. Stefansson, "is that no land animals exist there, despite the apparently general belief that it is inhabited by polar bears such as live in the arctic region. Not even a mouse can be found on the antarctic continent."

The explorer stressed this point in discussing the difficulty of spreading the truth about the polar regions. He told how the former kaiser expressed incredulity when told by Sir Ernest Shackleton, the British explorer, that there was no polar bears in the antarctic, how the French government, claiming a sector of the antarctic region, issued a proclamation against shooting polar bears there; and how the publication of Science, an organ of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, contained an issue of this without comment on the fallacy of it.

"Another factor in the spread of this misinformation," continued Mr. Stefansson, "is the ethics among explorers which prevent one explorer from pointing out the errors made or alleged to be made by another."

"In 1913, when I set out on one of my own expeditions," continued the explorer, "I felt heir to the idea that there was a search on in the arctic for a possible continent. Nothing could be more ridiculous, for there is no room for a continent around the north pole, but I was never able wholly to dispel the idea. As a matter of fact, I found three large islands in the arctic region, but apart from that only abysmally deep ocean, if any further proof was needed to show, no continent existed. In spite of that, the theory was revived last summer, when MacMillan set forth, and even this spring it has been rearing its head again, although I heard it again condemned for a month and am hopeful the arctic continent idea is at last dead."

Committee Reports Dam Bill Favorably

(By the Associated Press.)
The Swing-Johnson bill providing for the construction of the Boulder Canyon dam on the Colorado river was ordered favorably reported yesterday by the Senate irrigation committee, by a vote of 13 to 3.

Senators Cameron (Republican), Ashurst (Democrat), of Arizona, and Phipps (Republican), of Colorado, opposed it.

Bridge and Boys Found Girl Scouts' Chief Lure

St. Louis, Mo., April 23 (By A. P.).—Bridge and boys, a double entangling alliance, are the two chief factors in the girl scout problem, it was learned today at the convention of the national council, girl scouts, here. Mrs. William S. Sims, of Newport, R. I., wife of Rear Admiral Sims, retired, was the speaker.

"We have no objection to either bridge or boys," she said, "but we must hit upon some method by which scouts shall not succumb wholly to the lure of either, and shall give their services freely to the scout movement."

Mrs. Edward J. Walsh, St. Louis, was elected member at large to the national executive board this afternoon to fill the term of Mrs. Herbert L. Pratt, of New York city, resigned. Mrs. Herbert Hoover was reelected chairman of the executive committee, and Mrs. Nicholas Brady, of New York, treasurer.

EATING ALLEGED POISON IN COURT FREES WOMAN

Wife, Once Found Guilty of Killing Husband, Cleared
by Attorney's Act.

FOR CLEANING JEWELRY

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, April 23.—Mrs. Bernice Zellman, plump and pretty despite several months in prison, was acquitted this afternoon of the charge of murdering her husband by poison. On her first trial, nine months ago, she was found guilty but was granted a new trial. She is the thirty-sixth woman to be acquitted on murder charges in Chicago courts in recent years.

One of the chief exhibits offered by the State was a box of the alleged poison, which was said to have been found in the apartment of Mrs. Zellman's husband, who was found dead in his bed. The box contained a quantity of the stuff and was found in the apartment of the accused.

The attorney Mrs. Zellman had first offered to eat some pills found in the pocket of her husband. The State claimed the pills contained arsenic. After the attorney swallowed several of them, the prosecutor taunted him:

"Why don't you eat some of the poison that killed him?" indicating the box on the table.

"Well, this powder is for cleaning jewelry and might make me sick, but if you insist, here goes," and he scooped out a liberal quantity and swallowed it.

MUSSOLINI CALLED A FRIEND BY BRIAND; SOCIALISTS OBJECT

Aims of Italian Premier Win
Approval in Address
Before Chamber.

PERIOD IS DISQUIETING, FRENCH CHIEF ADMITS

Paris Cannot Indicate Policy of Others' Government,
He Tells Deputies.

Paris, April 23 (By A. P.).—Premier Briand, replying to a socialist interpellation in the chamber of deputies today, said he was convinced that Premier Mussolini was trying to realize Italy's legitimate aspirations and that he did not wish to disturb the peace of Europe.

In submitting the interpellation the Socialist Deputy Fontanier said: "We socialists think we should not refuse Italy, whose population is increasing regularly, her place in the sun, but we cannot not admit the fashion of asking for that place. We see Italy's action as tending to disturb the peace."

Premier Briand, replying, said that France's foreign policy in the present situation when international relations required such tactful and delicate handling, was animated by a constant anxiety for peace.

Protest by Socialists

Amid applause he continued: "I hasten to say that we have been in friendly relations with Italy. All the contracts we have with her show that. The Italian people, freely and in conditions particularly difficult, have, by a sort of instinct of conservation, and to remedy a situation which seemed really unsolvable, turned toward a certain regime. The Italian people chose freely. It is their affair."

"The day we start in dictating to other peoples the manner in which they ought to govern themselves, we will commit a grave fault."

The socialists protested at this, and the communist deputy, Doriot, shouted: "And Russia?"

"The day we start in dictating to other peoples the manner in which they ought to govern themselves, we will commit a grave fault."

7 Die When Flames Destroy a Tenement

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23 (By A. P.).—Seven negroes—four children, two women and a man—were burned to death when flames swept a tenement in Southeast Philadelphia early today.

The children, one woman and the man were trapped on the fourth floor. The other woman was killed when she leaped to the street. The mother of the children escaped by clinging to an electric light wire in midair.

Standard Oil Libel Demurrer Sustained

A demurrer filed by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, attacking a $10,000 libel suit filed against it by Charles Lowe, 1520 First street southwest, was sustained yesterday by Justice Bailey in circuit court No. 1.

Lowe complained of a letter dated April 25, 1925, written to him by the Baltimore branch of the oil company, which, among other things, suggested that he settle for a tank car to be delivered to him by Clephane, Latimer & Hall, counsel for the oil company, contended that the letter contained no libelous matter.

HOLDUP WITNESSES ASSIST WHITEMORE

Four Who Saw Shooting of Bank Messenger Slain Fail to Identify Bandit.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 23 (By A. P.).—Richard Reese Whitmore will not know his fate this week. Justice Noonan, who is presiding at the trial of the gang leader for the murder of a bank messenger, today announced after conferring with opposing counsel, that an adjournment would be taken until Monday at the close of today's session.

After District Attorney Guy B. Moore today cross-examined Mrs. Dora Jansen, of Philadelphia, who was one of eight witnesses who swore Whitmore was in that city the morning of the crime here, the defense, placed four witnesses of the crime on the stand.

The defense sought to show in a series of questions that the witnesses who had been in as good or better position to see the robbers than the four prosecution witnesses who have positively identified Whitmore as one of the gunmen. Each said he could not identify Whitmore.

3 REPORTED INDICTED ON CHARGES OF GIRL

Father of One Accused Student Denies That He Offered
Cash Settlement.

Sycamore, Ill., April 23 (By A. P.).—True bills were reported today by a special grand jury which yesterday heard testimony of Miss Dorothy Westervelt, student at the Northern Illinois Teachers college, who charged three young students of prominent families with mistreating her. A report will be made tomorrow.

The three admitted attempting to attack the girl but declared she successfully defended herself. Leonard Rich, of DeKalb, is at liberty on bond, while Emerson Wilson, of Charleston, Ill., and Stanley Hurt, of Malta, Ill., are in jail here. Reports that young Rich's father had attempted to make a cash settlement with Arthur Westervelt, Dorothy's father, and had offered to make his son marry her, were denied by Mr. Rich.

The girl still bears bruises and severe lacerations.

BURSUM'S SENATE CLAIM DISMISSED

Election Contest Brought Against Bratton Thrown Out by Committee.

(By the Associated Press.)
The Senate elections committee yesterday unanimously agreed to throw out the election contest brought against Senator Bratton (Democrat, New Mexico) by former Senator Bursum, a Republican.

The committee reached its decision after hearing arguments by Senator Bratton and by counsel for Bursum. Written briefs also have been filed, Bursum making numerous charges of election irregularities and Bratton denying them.

The committee held that the evidence did not prove a single count brought against the incumbent. A report will be made to the Senate early next week, and committee members expect it to be accepted.

could possibly have done for the prosperity of the country," said Alvin W. Kreh, chairman of the board of directors of the Equitable Trust Co.

In the stock market scores of issues closed 1 to 6 points higher on the day. Much of the buying came from "bear traders," who have been hammering the market on the theory that the declining movement would continue well into the summer, but who hurriedly covered. Total stock sales ran over 2,325,000 shares, the largest this month.

AMERICANS GAIN ENTRY TO THE IRAQ OIL FIELD

Share With British, Dutch and French in Turkish Petroleum Co.

BIG INTERESTS INVOLVED

New York, April 23 (By A. P.).—American oil interests have obtained an important foothold in the Turkish fields through an agreement by which they will share with British, Dutch and French groups in the control of the Turkish Petroleum Co., Ltd., Walter T. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, announced upon his return from Europe today.

The American companies in behalf of which Mr. Teagle conducted the negotiations in London, include the Standard companies of New Jersey and New York, the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co., the Atlantic Refining Co., and the Gulf Refining Co.

On completion of the deal, ownership of the Turkish Petroleum Co., Ltd., will be vested in the four international groups, each with a 25 per cent interest in the concern.

The transaction was made possible by an agreement among three group partners in the Turkish company and C. S. Gulbenkian, an Armenian, who organized and held a 25 per cent interest in the Turkish company. Mr. Gulbenkian will retain an interest in the form of royalties on the company's production.

The oil fields controlled by the Turkish Petroleum Co. are in Iraq, Mesopotamia, which is under British mandate. The European interests have had geologists in the territory since last fall, who have reported favorable results. Ninety-six square miles of promising oil fields will be exploited by the Turkish company for the next five years, with all participating companies sharing equally in the profits.

After that time independent producers will be permitted to buy land outside the Turkish company's development.

FLAGS OF 63 LANDS HONOR SHAKESPEARE

Birthday of Bard Is Kept by Distinguished Group at Stratford.

Stratford-on-Avon, England, April 23 (By A. P.).—The flags of 63 nations were unfurled here today as a world tribute to the genius of William Shakespeare on the 362nd birthday anniversary of the bard.

The flag of the soviet government was among those flown, being hoisted by the councillor of the Russian embassy in London.

The flags, in three long rows, were hoisted simultaneously at the sound of a trumpet which marked the beginning of the celebration here. Many Americans, some of them just off the liner George Washington, and hundreds of British lovers of Shakespeare made up the assembly.

Headed by children bearing flowers, the gathering marched to the little grammar school where the boy Shakespeare learned his "little Latin and less Greek," and then went to his grave to place wreaths of flowers on the poet's tomb.

A distinguished group then gathered at the town hall for a luncheon at which former Attorney General James Beck proposed a toast "to the immortal memory of William Shakespeare, gentleman."

West Virginia's Guns Set Air Target Mark

San Pedro, Calif., April 23 (By A. P.).—The U. S. S. West Virginia has established a world's record in antiaircraft gunnery. Nine direct hits were scored on an aerial sleeve target April 19 in a single salvo, navy officers said today. The hits were made by the starboard 5-inch guns of the super-dreadnaught.

The 4-inch battery ripped a 16-foot cylindrical sleeve, towed across the ship's beam at a speed of 70 miles an hour by a torpedo plane at an altitude of approximately 12,000 feet. Gunnery officers declared the effectiveness of the antiaircraft battery was established from the fact that a bombing plane loaded with explosives could not reach that height.

GRAND JURY GUARDED BY KENTUCKY TROOPS

Three Men Indicted on Charge of Attacking Woman;
Trial Date Set.

CROWDS ARE ON HAND

Madisonville, Ky., April 23 (By A. P.).—Madisonville slept tonight to the measured tread of Kentucky national guardsmen. The troops, 500 strong, were sent here to preserve order at the grand jury hearing of three negroes held on charges of attacking a young white woman.

The negroes, Bunyan Fleming, Nathan Bard, and Columbus Hollis, were indicted by the grand jury today and the trial of Fleming set for April 27.

Brig. Gen. Ellerbe Carter in charge of the troops, announced tonight the troops would remain on guard at the jail here until after the trial.

Early tonight crowds, curious rather than venturesome, gathered about the town but no evidence of violence was seen.

The courthouse was guarded by machine gunners during the hearing and the courtroom was closed to all except court officials and newspapermen. All were searched as they entered the building.

During the grand jury session three other girls who were the victims of an attempted attack were taken before the jurors in an attempt to identify the negroes. Whether they identified any of the prisoners was not disclosed.

FOREIGN COMMITTEE OF FRANCE DIVIDES ON WAR DEBT TERMS

Irreconcilables Say Pact Will Not Be Acceptable Without Safeguard Clause.

MAJORITY, HOWEVER, IS BACKING BRIAND

Essential to Reach an Agreement, Premier Declares at Meeting.

Paris, April 23 (By A. P.).—The members of the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies, after hearing Premier Briand explain the status of the war debt settlement with the United States, were divided in their opinions tonight. The irreconcilables, headed by M. Franklin Bouillon, chairman of the committee, declared that the debt accord would not be acceptable if the "safeguard" clause, protecting France should there be default by Germany in her reparations payments, were omitted.

The majority opinion, however, was in favor of approval of an accord on the general lines indicated by the French press, that is, complete liquidation of the debt in 62 years, with initial annual payments of $25,000,000—whether the safeguard clause was incorporated or not.

Ratification is Indicated.

In official quarters, it is thought that the debt agreement will be ratified by parliament if it is along the lines indicated by the newspapers.

Premier Briand told the foreign affairs committee today that it was imperative that some agreement should be arrived at.

"What is necessary," he declared, "is to reach an agreement at all costs. It must not be expected that the safeguard clause will be maintained in its entirety. The French government, through its representative in Washington is making a great effort to obtain conditions making the payments by France proportionate to her capacity of payments and to the receipts from Germany. But it is essential that we reach an agreement."

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at noon, April 23, and recessed at 4:50 p. m. until today at 12 o'clock.

Refused to reconsider the previous approval of the Italian debt settlement. In opposing Italian debt settlement Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, assailed President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon.

Federal Judge George W. English, of Eastern Illinois district, was commanded to appear before bar of the Senate on May 2, at 12:30 p. m., to answer charges of usurpation of power and other misdemeanors.

The United States would be prohibited from preparing for or engaging in offensive or defensive war under a constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Frazier, of North Dakota.

Prohibition inquiry committee continued its sessions with Assistant Secretary Andrews and Mayor Dever, of Chicago, as principal witnesses.

Early passage of the railroad labor bill was urged upon Chairman Watson, of Interstate commerce committee by the committee on labor legislation of the Association of Railway Executives.

Chairman Harrell, of the prohibition inquiry committee, expressed the opinion that committee will make no report.

Military committee ordered favorable report on War Department's construction program for military posts at a cost of $5,270,000.

Bill for construction of the Boulder canyon dam was ordered favorably reported by irrigation committee.

Elections committee unanimously agreed to throw out contest brought against the seat of Senator Bratton (Democrat), of New Mexico, by former Senator Bursum.

formalities were dispensed with, and when Ambassador Berenger, accompanied by two assistants, appeared before the commission, he was invited immediately to make his offer. This was presented in French, and immediately afterward M. Berenger departed, leaving the English translation of the complicated financial program he had proposed with the commission.

Ambassador Berenger, who was a member of the Calliaux mission, has been in conference with Secretary Mellon for the last two months and these conversations are understood to have considerably smoothed the way for a more definite understanding between France and this country.

Reed Assails French Delay.

The French debt became a subject of Senate discussion during the debate on the Italian agreement, with Senator Reed, of Missouri, assailing the French for delay. He suggested that if France could not pay in money she give up her West Indian possessions to this country because they guard the gateway to the Panama canal.

Assailing the Italian settlement, the Missouriian characterized it as the "greatest steel in all history" and warned that when the American people came to understand its terms they would repudiate it.

Training his gun on President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon, Senator Reed charged that "the administration of Calvin Coolidge is as much owned and controlled by the great interests as a subordinate of any bank is owned and controlled by the board of directors."

Says Interests are in Control.

Renewing a charge that Secretary Mellon was appointed in violation of the law because he was engaged in trade, the Missouri senator said the "great interests do not stand outside any more; they have moved in and taken possession of the government."

"What we need as President and Secretary of the Treasury," he added, "are men who are thinking about the people of the United States and not the bankers of New York and London and Berlin."

Senator Reed was caustic in his criticisms of his Democratic colleagues for their "coalitions" with the Republicans on this and other important questions at this session and ripples of laughter frequently ran around the galleries despite Reed's tirade.

Reed was in order by Vice President Dawes.

HOUSE.

Met at noon April 23 and adjourned at 5 o'clock p. m. until 12 o'clock today for eulogies.

Mr. Garner, of Texas, reiterated his characterization of the administration bill for settlement of German-American war claims as a "stupendous steal."

Approval was given to conference report on several bridge bills, among them one to authorize a Virginia corporation to construct proposed Washington-Wakefield memorial bridge across the Potomac below Washington.

"Slow motion machinery" of House leadership was assailed by Chairman Johnson of veterans committee for delaying consideration of bills to liberalize veterans legislation.

The Pullman porter was defended by Mr. Celler, of New York, who proposed a congressional investigation into the small pay received by them.

Expenditure of $2,000,000 for a Lincoln memorial 35-mile road in Illinois, is proposed in a bill by Mr. Rathbone, of that State.

A bill to provide jail sentences of six months to five years for violations of the prohibition law was introduced by Mr. Johnson (Democrat), of Texas.

Rules committee will be asked Tuesday to give preferential status to the $36,000,000 rivers and harbors development bill.

Application of the equalization fee on agricultural commodities would be withheld for two years under an amendment to the Haugen committee.

Census committee refused to rescind its previous vote to pigeonhole for present session all reapportionment bills.

OUTSIDE PRESSURE FOR EXPENDITURES CONCERNS COOLIDGE

Committing of Treasury to Outlays Over Period of Years Disliked.

SPANISH WAR PENSIONS
LIKELY TO BE VETOED

Other Veterans' Measures
Watched; Movement to Ease Economy Denied.

President Coolidge is concerned seriously over the increasing pressure being exerted from various quarters on Congress to compel action on bills committing the Treasury to expenditures over a period of years. This pressure threatens the budget system and the nation's finances, it was pointed out.

According to the White House spokesman, Congress has cooperated with the President to a remarkable degree and the President is very grateful. But within the last few weeks the outside political pressure has been so insistent that it has been found impossible by many members to resist, especially in view of the fact that an election is coming. As a result the measures which would commit the government to expenditures from year to year are being jammed through.

Because neither House would heed his suggestion, it now is possible that the President will veto the Spanish-American war veterans pension bill which went through the Senate and the House without material opposition. The original proposal for this measure was approved by Mr. Coolidge, because the figures were fixed at approximately $8,000,000. He now has been told that the bill, which he has sent to the legal authorities for consideration as to constitutionality, will commit the nation to an expense of not less than $19,000,000 annually. This is far out of proportion in the view of the President.

Would Cut Road Funds.

According to the White House spokesman when the bill was under consideration in the Senate the executive let it be known that he felt the amount was excessive. He suggested that a compromise might be reached whereby the 50-50 provision of the good roads law which pledges the government to spend an equal amount with the States on highway improvements, might be changed to take care of a part of the pension bill provisions.

It was suggested that a portion of the highway money could be diverted to the pension law. This would have cut the good roads appropriation, but the White House understood this plan would be acceptable to the Senate. In fact, Senator Norbeck told the President that he believed the good roads bill would be cut about $4,000,000. Instead, when the bill reached the Interior Department for comment, it was reported that it carried a trifle more than it had when it was passed by the House.

The pension bill for the Grand Army of the Republic carries an expenditure of $72,000,000. The proposals for the world war veterans, if the Omaha program is to be carried out, carries an expenditure of between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000. All of this is increasing the concern of the President, because of the almost certainty that there will be a budget deficit at the end of the next fiscal year.

Analysis of the returns from the initial income tax payments for the present calendar year show that a very great proportion of those who made payments made them for the entire year instead of taking advantage of the quarterly payment plan. In addition the heavy slump in the stock market, dating from early in the year, means a heavy loss deduction in comparison with the profits which were made in the calendar year 1925.

Retirement Involved.

The President, according to his spokesman, has talked the matter over with various members of Congress. He has called their attention to the fact that he has decided that a $300,000,000 reduction was all that the Treasury could stand outside influences kept forcing a "biting off" in all schedules, with the result that the general tax reduction was greater than the Treasury ought to have been asked to stand. He also has asked that they cooperate with him now in keeping appropriations down to the least possible mark.

In this connection the retirement proposal is involved inextricably. It is understood that there has been submitted to the President another plan, with figures, which it is held might solve the problem without serious embarrassment to the Treasury. However, it is known that there is only the slightest chance of retirement bill reaching the White House at the present session, especially if plans of the leaders for an adjournment about May 15 carry through.

Recent suggestions that a "policy of judicial expenditures" is to be substituted for the rigid economy plan of the President met with no semblance of approval at the White House yesterday. It had been intimated that business interests had influenced the executive to favor a loosening of the governmental purse strings as an example to business generally. It was said, however, that the President is the one who has decided that the President intends there shall be no letting up in the saving movement within the government, so long as he is in the White House.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS UPHOLD WET PLANK

The Democratic platform read, "so as to permit the people of the several States in the exercise of their sovereignty, to authorize the lawful manufacture and sale of light wines and beer." Another plank condemned Gov. Small's administration and demanded that the attorney general determine immediately by what legal right he holds office. Another asked enactment by Congress of farm relief legislation.

Planks in the Republican platform declared opposition to the world court and the League of Nations and declared for a farm relief measure. Declaring that prohibition is the question uppermost in people's minds, Volsteadism a "disgrace" and "in conflict with the fundamentals of human nature," George E. Brennan today laid his candidacy for United States senator before the Democratic convention.

His contest with the Republican candidate, Col. Frank L. Smith, he said, must be built on that issue. "The world court question," he added, "is no issue."

"I am making appeal or modification of the Volstead act the dominant issue of my candidacy, because the people of the United States have given it that rank."

FENNING TO APPEAR BEFORE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE

detail— isn't that right?" Mr. Milligan, who is a lawyer, pursued. "I think that is right," agreed Maj. Arnold.

It was developed from the two lists also that the bonds in Mr. Fenning's practice range as high as $10,000 and $15,000 while bonds given by other guardians run from $1,000 to $2,500.

Bonds to Advantage.

"I notice," said Mr. Milligan, "that all of Mr. Fenning's bonds are made by the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. Mr. Fenning is a solicitor or agent for that company, isn't he?"

"What are his fees on a bond?" "From 20 to 25 per cent, I understand," Maj. Arnold replied, adding that a $10,000 bond cost the veteran $40.

"Then if Fenning gave excessive bonds it would be to his advantage, would it not?" asked Mr. Milligan.

"That is right," replied Maj. Arnold.

At the night hearing the House caucus room was jammed, approximately 300 persons standing. One man was overcome and had to be carried out.

The Texan, pursuing his examination of Dr. White, ran out of material, and twice left the examination to make what might be described as a mass appeal.

"I want to send these boys into the trenches," he shouted on one occasion, "and so help me God, I am going to get them away from Mr. Fenning." The crowd roared approval. This brought Mr. Gibson's threat to make it a closed hearing, and it was apparent that he intended his remark as a rebuke to Mr. Blanton as well as the crowd.

Covers Much Ground.

His investigation of the hospital superintendent ran largely over ground of 20 years ago. He spent 45 minutes arguing with Dr. White over the difference between a strait-jacket and a camisole. Never, however, did he perturb the doctor, the latter frequently engaging in repartee with him, and between sallies, the two exchanged sotto voce assurance of mutual admiration. Mr. Blanton admired Dr. White as the best witness he had ever examined, and Dr. White thought the Texan was the best cross-examiner he had ever been up against.

Mr. Blanton made a mass play once on the secret conference which it was developed at the veterans' committee hearing Commissioner Fenning had with Maj. Arnold Wednesday night.

"We ought to do something to protect ourselves against these 'surprise' meetings," Mr. Blanton shouted.

"You mean surreptitious," Dr. White quietly corrected.

At one stage Mr. Blanton told Dr. White that when he concluded questioning him, he would let the doctor ask questions of him.

"Suppose I conduct a psychiatric examination," said Dr. White, laughing.

Tells of Illegals.

Mr. Blanton read affidavits in certain cases which he has dwelt on considerably before. They are stories of alleged illegal incarcerations. Each time he said:

"Isn't that pathetic, doctor?" "Quite pathetic," Dr. White agreed.

When Representative Gilbert, of Kentucky, had taken over the examination, he said that he could not escape the conclusion in view of the admitted facts, developed that the "courts here are not entirely without blame." "I am putting this committee on notice now," he said, "that I, for one, intend to insist that we go to the very bottom of it all."

At the outset of the hearing Dr. White said that the hearing had developed into a personal attack by Mr. Blanton on him, and he demanded that he be permitted to call witnesses and have a copy of the transcript of the proceedings. This was readily agreed to.

The veterans' committee hearing was exhaustive.

It also was developed that the commissioner had made a trip to Denmark with one of his wards in 1923. The committee developed this in connection with its scrutiny of the 22 per cent fee which Mr. Fenning received in the case of Nellis P. J. Erenberg, and which members contend is one concrete instance of an actual violation of the law.

Maj. Arnold procured the court records and learned that this fee was allowed because Mr. Fenning made the trip. It amounted to $500.

Collected for Expenses.

"So there's something rotten in Denmark, too," Representative Rankin, of Mississippi, observed. The $500 was solely Mr. Fenning's fee, it was explained, an item of $1,557.21 being allowed for the expenses of the trip, covering the travel of the commissioner, the veteran and the attendant to Denmark and the attendant and Mr. Fenning back to this country.

In the record there was a letter from a woman purporting to speak for the veteran's mother, saying that she considered the services Mr. Fenning rendered were well worth $500. Mr. Rankin read the letter to the committee, however, and said it was evident that the writer was under the impression that the $500 covered everything and that she knew nothing of the $1,557.21 for expenses. At the night hearing Mr. Blanton asked Dr. White "What became of Fenning's 33 other wards when he went to Denmark?"

Maj. Arnold, at the afternoon hearing, testified that the maximum fee allowed in the United States is 5 per cent an hour.

Representative Rankin developed a new lead when he told Maj. Arnold that he had been informed by a prominent local lawyer that it was the practice of the District Supreme court never to allow more than 3 per cent to trustees.

Chairman Johnson, of South Dakota, asked the significance of that.

Mr. Rankin said: "Well, if it is the practice to hold trusteeships to 3 per cent and in Mr. Fenning's world war guardianship case to permit 10 per cent, we should know it," Mr. Rankin replied.

Says Law Violated.

Mr. Milligan summing up the testimony, asked Maj. Arnold: "Now isn't it true that Fenning goes out to St. Elizabeth's about every two weeks and sees his 75 wards in an hour?"

"Yes sir," agreed Maj. Arnold.

"Isn't it also true that Fenning has been allowed the maximum in the cases on this list of 10 per cent and in one instance violated the law when he went over the maximum?"

"Yes, sir, in my opinion," agreed Maj. Arnold.

"Isn't it true, from your knowledge as a lawyer of the work required generally, that his attorney's fees, too, have been excessive?"

"Without knowing the details they seem excessive," said Maj. Arnold.

The list which the committee had was of the 75 veterans' bureau wards for whom Mr. Fenning acts as guardian. His total fees from them amounted to approximately $90,000.

"For six years, then, his annual income has been $15,000 from these wards," Mr. Rankin observed.

"And that does not include the $5,000 or $6,000 a year he has made from his commissions on bonds, which all come from the wards," interjected Representative Bulwinkle, of North Carolina, and it was added, does not embrace the income he derives from keeping the funds in the bank of which he is a director, or the income derived from his alleged undertakers' connections.

At the morning hearing it was developed that a secret conference was held between Maj. Arnold and Commissioner Fenning in the veterans bureau Wednesday night. Maj. Arnold, questioned by Representative Bulwinkle, said that the commissioner came to his office at 7:30 o'clock after the bureau employees had left to go over the files in the Norris case. Representative Blanton, of Texas, has charged that Mr. Fenning's activities in this case constituted a violation of the law prohibiting officials of the government from prosecuting a claim or receiving a fee from a claim prosecuted against the government.

The papers were in possession of the regional office, it was developed, but Maj. Arnold procured them.

"Couldn't Fenning have gone to the regional office and got them," asked Mr. Bulwinkle.

"Yes," agreed Maj. Arnold, adding that he had never seen Mr. Fenning more than two or three times in his life and that the conference lasted 10 or 15 minutes.

JOSEPH PENNELL DIES;
NOTED AS ILLUSTRATOR

Etcher and Lithographer, He Was Almost as Famed as an Author.

New York, April 23 (By A. P.). Joseph Pennell, internationally-known etcher and illustrator, died today of pneumonia at his apartment at the Hotel Margaret in Brooklyn. He was 65 years old.

Mr. Pennell was a close friend of the late James A. McNeill Whistler. Death followed a week's illness which started with influenza and developed into pneumonia.

Mr. Pennell was almost as noted as an author as he was as an illustrator. He and Mrs. Pennell, formerly Elizabeth Robbins, collaborated in 1910 on "The Authorized Life of James A. McNeill Whistler." He was a contributor to leading magazines. He was born in Philadelphia, July 4, 1860, and became a pupil of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

His illustrations won him medals at Paris, Philadelphia, Chicago and Buffalo. In 1900 he was awarded a gold medal at the Paris exposition. Other medals were awarded him at Dresden, 1902; Grand Prix, 1904; gold medal, 1905; Grand Prix, 1906; Barcelona, 1907; Brussels, 1910; Amsterdam, 1912, and San Francisco, 1916.

Mr. Pennell became a teacher in the Art Students League, recently specializing in etching and lithography.

Nominations Made
By Y. W. Convention

Milwaukee, Wis., April 23 (By A. P.).—Either Mrs. Harry Cunningham, of Toledo, Ohio, or Mrs. John K. Hanna, of Dallas, Texas, will be the next convention president of the Young Women's Christian association it was announced today when the nominating committee made its report to the 2,500 delegates assembled at the National biennial convention here.

The presidency was again offered to Mrs. Frederick M. Paist Germantown, Pa., who has served during the last two conventions, but she declined. The election will be held Tuesday.

Scientist to Deny
Theory of Einstein

(By the Associated Press.) Prof. Dayton C. Miller, president of the American Physical society, has prepared a paper to be read before the society's meeting here in which he differs with the Einstein theory that there is no relative drift of ether above the strata of atmosphere over the earth.

Reporting for the first time on his laboratory observations at the Mount Wilson observatory, in California, during which 34,000 readings were made, Prof. Miller declares his findings indicated such an ether drift and that the results confirmed those obtained in 1925 and announced at the society's Kansas City meeting.

POLICE SEEK MAN'S BODY IN TIDAL BASIN

Cap and Vest Found Under Cherry Trees; Note Indicates Suicide.

A man's cap and vest were found underneath the cherry trees, 150 feet west from the Tidal Basin bridge at the entrance to the Speedway early today, where a man is believed to have leaped into the basin. Through an identification book found in the vest, police believe the man to be George Brown, a former patient at Mount Alto hospital.

Shortly after midnight a telephone message to the harbor precinct told of a man jumping into the basin. Police of the Fourth and Third precincts were sent to the scene. They dragged until shortly before 2 o'clock, but without avail.

A note scribbled on four sheets of notebook paper read: "My dear Florence G. Perry, 411 Fifth street northeast: After leaving you this afternoon I made up my mind I was going to do what I said. I am not, nor have I ever been a coward. I will always be with you if spirits can come back. * * * may I rest in peace." The identification book gave the man's address as 533 F street northwest, and asked that E. H. Brown, 1430 G street northeast, be notified in case of accident.

Totten Divorce Writ
Affirmed by Court

Baltimore, Md., April 25.—The decree of the Baltimore county court at Towson granting a partial divorce to Mrs. Priscilla Howe Totten from her husband, Howe Totten, Washington real estate broker, was affirmed today by the Maryland court of appeals, according to a dispatch from Annapolis. The partial divorce was granted Mrs. Totten on October 13, 1925.

Mrs. Totten also was allowed alimony, counsel fees and custody of her four children.

Itching, painful rash on hand
yields to Resinol

Huntington, L. I., N. Y., Dec. 20:—"I want to tell you what your Resinol Ointment has done for me. Some time ago, I had a red, scaly rash between my fingers that came from using too much harsh soap and soap powder. It itched badly, especially at night. I am a housekeeper and every time I had to put my hands in water the pain was intense. One evening I read a Resinol advertisement in the paper and decided to buy a jar. I did and after I had used it for about two months, my trouble was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Ward Chapman, R. F. D. No. 1, 400 G. James.

APPROPRIATIONS.

When the late Speaker Reed, of Maine, was faced with the charge of congressional extravagance and the derisive cry that the Republican Congress had appropriated a billion dollars, Mr. Reed replied: "This is a billion dollar country."

Despite the fact that the world war and the large expenditures incident thereto, is seven years behind us, the House in this first session of the Sixty-ninth Congress has already appropriated more than two and three-quarter billion dollars, and is due to appropriate a quarter of a billion more.

Here is the situation in the House to date: Total appropriations provided for in bills already passed by the House, in round figures:

Agriculture	$127,003,000
District of Columbia	33,750,000
Independent offices	507,275,000
Interior Department	226,326,000
Legislative Department	16,406,000
Navy Department	312,312,000
Justice, Commerce and Labor	79,856,000
Treasury and Postoffice	867,412,000
War Department	339,616,000
First deficiency	281,684,000

Another deficiency bill will be reported shortly, carrying something like $150,000,000. The grand total will be approximately $3,000,000,000, without the public buildings bill and many other smaller items still to be considered.

The budget ordinary expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1927, are estimated at about $3,494,000,000. Total expenditures including sinking fund, interest on the public debt, and redemption of securities, are estimated by the budget at $3,898,000,000.

Up to and including April 20, 1926, total ordinary receipts of the Treasury were $3,074,687,000, which is $100,000,000 greater than for the same period of the last fiscal year. The indications are that the total ordinary receipts for the year ending June 30, 1927, will be something like $3,824,000,000.

It is time for Congress to keep close tab on further appropriations if a surplus at the end of the next fiscal year is to be realized. The $3,000,000,000 mark in appropriations has been reached already, and this for one year. The billion dollar appropriation of Speaker Reed's time provided for the expenditures for maintenance for two years. We are still growing.

The good roads movement in this country began in August, 1912, and was continued in 1913 and 1914, when, in the latter year, Congress created a joint congressional committee of five senators and five representatives to investigate the question of government aid in the construction of post roads. The subject has given many members of Congress opportunities to print speeches on the subject in the Congressional Record. One day last week fifteen "leaves to print" were granted in the House.

A SURVEY OF HOMICIDES.

Mayor Dever of Chicago has been in Washington to defend the fair name of his city against the charges of lawlessness in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition law. The mayor is rightfully jealous of the reputation of the Windy City. It is presumably part of the business of the executive head of every municipality to stand up in defense of the home town. Chicago has borne a reputation in the last several years as a city of crime even surpassing New York. There have been murders and holdups nearly every day. No statistics are available as to the number of murders annually in proportion to the population, but there have been plenty.

It is interesting therefore to consider the results of a survey made public by Judge Marcus Kavanaugh of the criminal court of Chicago bearing on the murder situation in this country. Judge Kavanaugh has found that in twenty years there have been 170,000 murders committed in the United States. Of this number 34,000 of the murderers have died, 1,800 are serving sentences, and the remainder have gone unpunished. According to his figures, 118,000 murderers have been allowed to go free. This accounts for the fact, Judge Kavanaugh says, that 10,000 murders were committed in America in 1921 as against 100 in England and Wales combined, and 385 in France in the same period.

The Chicago Judge concludes that the chance of a murderer being executed for his crime in America is about 1 in 110.

This is startling information. It is almost unbelievable. When it is recalled that two young men in Chicago found guilty a year or so ago of an atrocious murder escaped the electric chair because their parents were rich, and that others equally guilty have cheated the law, the question naturally occurs how far is Chicago responsible for this shocking situation. Perhaps not more so than some other large cities, but Judge Kavanaugh's survey discloses a condition in this country that emphasizes the great importance of the investigation into crime that has been undertaken by the National Crime Commission and the general movement for checking it. The Chicago Judge's findings should be studied by every criminal judge and every citizen in the country who may be called for jury duty.

Correct this sentence: "John failed five times," said he, "but never once said luck was against him."

INSECURE BRIDGES.

The startling statement is made by Frank L. Averill, in a report to the Board of Trade, that a complete examination of all bridges in the District made by competent engineers discloses that nearly all are insecure. The Chain bridge, the engineers reported, is the only span having a guard rail sufficiently high to stop a skidding automobile. The Calvert street bridge, where recently a woman was killed, had many bolts missing in the guard rail. The Klinge bridge, the scene of a shocking accident last June when nearly a whole family was wiped out in a plunge of an automobile over the guard rail, is still unsafe, it is reported. The Park road bridge in Rock Creek park is on a dangerous curve and poorly lighted.

The Board of Trade endorsed Mr. Averill's report with a recommendation that the Calvert street and Klinge bridges be replaced with new ones.

It is almost impossible to believe that the authorities have permitted these bridges to remain in an unsafe condition, yet the report of Mr. Averill convinced so reputable a body as the Board of Trade that they are a menace to life. Hundreds of automobiles pass over these bridges every day, and if the engineers are correct in their findings, there is constant danger of accidents. Last summer following the Klinge bridge fatality District authorities inspected the bridge and it was believed steps had been taken to make it safe. Mr. Averill declares that no improvement has been made since that time.

Who is responsible for this neglect? If the Klinge bridge is unsafe because of excessive vibration and inadequate guard rails, as reported by Mr. Averill, it should be closed to traffic. The Calvert street bridge should have the immediate attention of the District engineers. Every span in the District should be inspected and all should be made safe. The situation calls for prompt action.

Yet a square peg in a round hole can fit in with complete success if it will develop in the right way.

BATHING BEACHES.

The Senate has passed the Zihlman bill, already passed by the House, authorizing the construction of two artificial bathing beaches, or pools, for Washington, at a cost of $345,000. The Senate amended the bill so as to specify that one of the two pools shall be for the use of colored persons. The bill will now go to conference, and it is probable the conferees will have no difficulty in agreeing. However, the two houses must authorize the appropriation of the sum before the money can be made available.

Meanwhile the office of public buildings and parks of the War Department can not proceed with the work. No money is on hand even to prepare the designs for the pools. Maj. U. S. Grant 3d is authority for the statement that it will take a month after the appropriation is made to complete the plans, and perhaps another month to advertise for and let the bids for construction. The actual work of building the pools and bathhouses it is said will not consume a great deal of time. There is just a chance, according to Maj. Grant, that if Congress were to act promptly in making the money available the pools could be completed before the end of the late summer season. It is to be hoped therefore that Congress will not delay in acting finally upon the bill.

Why should a child be grateful? Parents owe it all they give as recompense for bringing it here.

REPEAL THE BORLAND LAW.

The citizens' advisory council in voting unanimously against the proposal of Engineer Commissioner Bell to ask a modification rather than the repeal of the Borland amendment doubtless reflects the preponderant opinion of District residents. The engineer commissioner following a conference in which a number of prominent citizens protested against the amendment, expressed the opinion that Congress would not repeal the objectionable law, and asked for the views of the council on a proposed compromise substitute. The council has given its answer promptly and unequivocally. It is for out and out repeal. In voicing its objections to the Borland measure, the council said:

"Our citizens, through our civic and trade bodies with great unanimity have long and persistently petitioned for relief. Enactment by the last Congress of the gasoline tax law has recognized a principle of responsibility opposed to that involved in the Borland amendment. The responsibility of the users of the streets now being definitely established, it would seem that in all fairness it should likewise be recognized that street and road construction and maintenance is a general rather than an abutting property obligation."

"This appears to be a clear statement of the case. The enactment of the gasoline tax law, which was opposed by many, established the principle of general responsibility. How then can Congress refuse to repeal a law that imposes upon the owners of abutting property half the cost of maintenance when the general public benefits to a far greater degree than the owners themselves?"

Congress should not refuse to heed the appeal of the taxpayers for the repeal of the Borland amendment.

DEPEW AT NINETY-TWO.

Serene and content with life as he finds it, Chauncey M. Depew rounded out 92 years on earth on Friday. Of course "our Chauncey" was interviewed as to his opinion of the causes which have aided him in maintaining a place on the footstool of the Almighty so many more years than are usually allotted to the human race. And, equally, of course, he paid his tribute to the Supreme Being who has vouchsafed to him such a long span of life and more happiness than is ordinarily the lot of man.

"All that I have, all that I have accomplished, all the tremendous happiness that has come to me in this world, have come to me from a just God and a loving parent," he said, and then the venerable statesman took a slap at Sinclair Lewis and those of his ilk who have achieved recent notoriety through declarations of unbelief in an Omnipotent Being who controls human destinies when he said: "I have little sympathy with those who get on the front pages of newspapers by defying God."

But even so well preserved a man as is the former senator was unable to give the interviewers a recipe for a sure specific against the attacks of The Reaper. All he could suggest is that moderation has been his guide and that if red meat is barred by your medical adviser it is best to cut out beef and stick to chicken. He felt disqualified to talk on the subject uppermost in the discussions of today, the Volstead law, because outside of his "dally champagne" he never takes anything "except on festive occasions." But according to common belief the whole of the 92 years of his life has been "a festive occasion" for Chauncey, and he has contributed much to make the occasion of a sojourn on this earth "festive" for every one with whom he has come in contact.

If a demonstration were needed of the growth of this country which Mr. Depew has witnessed—and aided—it is furnished by one paragraph of the interview printed in New York when he said: "When I first joined the Central it ran as far as Albany and owned 140 miles of track. Today it goes to the Pacific coast through its connections, owns 12,000 miles of roadway and the cost of carrying goods is far less than it was then."

If one-half of the world knew how the other half lived, it could pick up a little change by reporting the facts.

DOCTORS' WITS.

Dr. Joseph Larkin, of the Casualty hospital, will not be reported to the Carnegie Foundation as a fit candidate for a medal, in all probability, but if little Albert Mack grows to manhood he will no doubt honor the memory of the doctor all his life. The baby, only 10 months old, swallowed a safety pin which had not been made safe. Mothers often neglect to put such implements into "safety" until they are inserted in the garments they are designated to keep in place. This particular pin was wide open when it entered the esophagus of the baby. When mother ran into the hospital with the partially strangled child its chance of life was about one in a thousand. It had ceased to breathe when Dr. Larkin inserted his finger in the infant's throat and forced the point of the pin into his own flesh hard enough to enable him to withdraw the obstruction. Artificial respiration again set the human machinery in motion and the baby's life was saved, and he was returned to his anxious mother, "as good as new."

So far as the doctor is concerned the incident was "all in a day's work." Doctors whose mental processes are of the proper caliber to make them something more than mere "pill-rollers" are frequently called upon in emergencies to get their digits into instantaneous communication with their brains, and such instances as that recorded in the case of little Albert Mack are not disseminated through the press by the physicians. It is invariably the grateful mother who shouts the joyful news from the housetops.

If the army is used in the dry campaign, we may expect regiments in future to have such names as "The Forty-second Sniffers."

DEFAULTED DEBTS.

A drive has been started in London for the collection of defaulted debts of eight Southern States incurred during the civil war. Here is the schedule of the alleged defaulted debts:

Alabama	$13,000,000
Arkansas	8,700,000
Florida	8,000,000
Georgia	15,500,000
Louisiana	6,000,000
Mississippi	7,000,000
North Carolina	13,000,000
South Carolina	6,000,000

Obviously, this drive has been revived to give a moral argument against the full payment of some allied debts to the United States. This would appear to fall since the United States does not intend to collect all that is due plus interest.

Furthermore, the Federal government has nothing whatever to do with these old civil war debts incurred by eight Southern States. Finally, these loans were made by British investors about the time when the British cruiser Alabama was interfering with the operations of the Federal government of the United States.

Those loans were gambles; and the gamblers lost. When a gambler loses, it does not harmonize with that calling to "appeal to our American cousins, who are very largely of the same blood as ourselves, to fulfill to the uttermost their obligations toward the old country."

Some people think that the United States dominates the world production of pig iron, and therefore does not need any legislation of a protective character. But in the calendar year 1925 nearly half a million tons of foreign pig iron was brought into the United States and sold. In 1925 the volume brought in was valued at $7,900,000, all of which was spent abroad. It costs about one-half as much to make pig iron in India as in the United States, and American pig iron manufacturers are asking for an increase in the duty.

The door to promotion in the regular army has been automatically closed for about four months to meet the cut of $500,000 in the army budget effective July 1 next. However, according to Secretary Davis, this cut in appropriations will be met through normal losses to the service.

The Department of Commerce reports that the American people in February alone bought about a million dollars worth of oriental rugs. They came from China, Persia and Turkey. This indicates opulence in the United States, but perhaps the American manufacturers of rugs would not agree to this interpretation.

PRESS COMMENT.

Old-Fashioned Mother.

Wabash Plain Dealer: The old-fashioned mother who had a dozen kids to raise never had to resort to a daily dozen to keep herself in trim.

Xantippe Bobbed.

Minneapolis Journal: The wife of a Greek dancer, now in America, says a Greek dancer, now in America, who possibly explains why the old gentleman didn't gag on the hemlock.

A Difference.

Boston Transcript: The difference between learning golf and motorizing is that in golf at first you hit nothing and in motorizing you hit everything.

All Americans?

Worcester Telegram: Mylikyngas, Fanos, Maffeo, Oliva and Poltala played on Fitchburg's national championship high school basketball team. "Put only Americans on guard." Well, that's what Fitchburg did.

Longevity.

New York Telegraph: The average man can now live 27 years longer than his great-grandfather did a century ago, according to the American Medical Association. But who wants to live the way the doctors advise?

Some Traveling.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Nine billion gallons of gasoline were consumed by automobiles in the United States last year. And the American public went on an aggregate journey of something like 135,000,000,000 miles, or about 1,200 miles per capita.

Speak Louder, Senator.

Detroit News: Senator Borah says, "I am one of those who believe the Constitution is of sufficient value, if it is necessary, to trace our way through fire and flood to maintain it as it is." Will the senator please repeat it in a louder voice for the benefit of the antireportment element in the other chamber?

Italy's Wood Market.

Brooklyn Citizen: America is in danger of losing its wood market in Italy. That country has been importing large quantities of wood from America and Australia, but for some time the kingdom has been unable to purchase wood from these countries because of the dollar exchange and the Austrian prohibition on wood exports. Now the French are attempting to organize, with good prospects of success, a market in Italy for French wood.

London Rummage Sale.

Philadelphia Record: Every woman—and every man, for that matter—who has ever attended a rummage sale will get a thrill out of the thought of attending such an affair in the famed Tower of London. Such a sale is now going on, the first of its kind in 200 years, at which the Tower authorities are getting rid of superfluous armor, some of it 400 years and more old, and receiving uncommonly good prices for their housecleaning. Americans are said to be particularly active in the bidding for helmets, gauntlets, breastplates, &c., of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and some of these, when

The Pursuit of the Practical

By GLENN FRANK.

THE thing that looks the most practical is often the least practical; the thing that looks the least practical is often the most practical. In our passion to be practical we often succeed in being merely shallow.

I have just talked to a fault-finding father who said: "I am disgusted with colleges. I sent my son to college to prepare him for business, and what do you think they have set him to studying? Philosophy! Can you imagine it?"

He seemed surprised that I did not seem surprised. "If my son, when he is as old as your son," I said to him, "wants to prepare for a business career, I shall advise him to study philosophy. If he can find a teacher who will teach philosophy and not merely the history of philosophies."

He smiled tolerantly. Fortunately we were in my library. I took from a shelf the first volume of the Letters of William James, and read this to him:

"If the best use of our colleges is to give young men a wider openness of mind and a more flexible way of thinking than special technical training can generate, then philosophy is the most important of all college studies."

"However skeptical one may be of the attainment of universal truths, one can never deny that philosophic study means:

"The habit of always seeing an alternative."
"Of not taking the usual for granted."
"Of making conventionalities fluid again."
"Of imagining foreign states of mind."

"In a word, it means the possession of mental perspective."

"It says: Is there space and air in your mind, or must your companions gasp for breath whenever they talk with you?"

"And if our colleges are to make men and not machines they should look, above all things, to this aspect of their influence."

"What doctrines students take from their teachers are of little consequence provided they catch from them the living philosophic attitude of mind, the independent, personal look at the data of life, and the eagerness to harmonize them."

I could see that his memory was fishing up pictures of smoke-filled committee rooms in which he had labored long and helplessly with business men whose minds had never been washed clean of stubbornness and narrowness and dogmatism by a bath in the tonic waters of philosophy, business men who had never learned the art of seeing both sides of an issue and looking at a problem with the other man's eyes.

One of the first things to learn in preparing for the effective pursuit of a practical career is that a thing is not always practical because it looks practical.

(Copyright, 1926)

they are finally transported to homes here, will probably have highly imaginative stories attached to them. If some of our shoppers in the Tower should get hold of something worn by a cavalier or roundhead ancestor, who would deny them the innocent pleasure of such a discovery and the gratification of displaying such imposing apparel to plebeian friends of the Main street variety?

What Gossip Does.

Baltimore Sun: Lord Birkenhead's little joke about the artificially colored beard of Sir Robert Houston is called the most expensive jest on record, for his definition of Sir Robert as "the only genuine dye-hard" is said to explain his failure to get a large slice of the shipowner's £7,000,000 estate. But it was not the joke that did the harm. Lord Birkenhead merely suffers from expensive friends—the ones who repeated the mot to Sir Robert. The world's gossipers are a mean-spirited crew, doing themselves no good and nothing but harm to others.

The "Hello" Girl.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The telephone operator is one of those blessings we are prone to regard too lightly. When we have to wait more than 10 seconds for a call or when we happen to get the wrong number we think of her as something else than a blessing, and say things about her that in our calmer moments we regret. But on the hundreds and thousands of occasions when she performs her service pleasantly, promptly, accurately and efficiently we give no thought to her at all.

AN OLD HOUSE.

By MARGARET PERKINS BRIGGS, in the NEW YORK SUN.

It listens, huddled in a clump of trees,
For feet that seek its path no more at all
Only the winds go in and out, and bees
That have their storehouse in a ruined wall.

Only a vine comes creeping back in spring
To coax it into fragrant memory—
Sensing how lost and desolate a thing
A house abandoned in old age can be.

More dingy and more shrunken in the sight
Of greening hills and orchards lit with bloom,
The house peers out between its trees till night
Has blinded it and, in the thickened gloom,
An old vine breathes remembrance
on the air
That prowls the rooms and silence-drifted stairs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"Down With the Wets!"

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: After all the "wets" have said before Congress, they know down in their hearts that under the Volstead act their business is doomed. The recent speech of Lloyd George is the most potent blow that the "wets" have yet received. He said that American prohibition is a great success and one of the most advanced steps that any country had yet taken toward a perfect civilization. He advised England to follow in our footsteps.

Down with the "wets," who would ruin our beautiful country for the greed of gold and vicious appetite! M. C. ROBINSON.

Takoma Park, April 21.

The Retirement Pittance.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The former employees of the government who have been retired from its service appeal to Congress to pass the liberalized retirement bill at this session.

When a person has reached the retirement age his expectation of life is short. He can expect to live only a few years more. We who are about to die salute you! Do not leave us in distress for the little time remaining to us.

The retired employees are dying off annually by the hundreds. Every day sees one or more of them buried. Their end has been hastened, in the case of those who are still efficient, by the lack of employment, and, in the case of nearly all of them, by worry—by anxiety and suffering caused by the insufficiency of the annuity.

Unless the retired government employees were exceptionally fortunate, now, in their old age, they must hunt for new and strange employment, or be dependent upon the bounty of relations or of public charity. They cannot get food, clothing and shelter for $10 a week, which is about the average annuity. Mine is $42 a month. Will Congress leave them in this destitution? LOUIS W. REILLY.

Washington, April 19.

Federal Employees' Retirement.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In man's travels from the cradle to the grave his mileage is pretty well used up when the government turns him loose, according to the present Federal retirement law. If you intend to do something to relieve these faithful government employees, why wait until they are so near the grave before you do it? The short time they draw this pension would prompt legislators and our President to make it as liberal as possible, in recognition of their past service.

If an army officer retires at the age of 64 years, why require the government clerk to serve six years longer? If the army officer does not contribute to his retirement fund, why impose this extra hardship on the civil employee? The army officer, getting free training and board by the government schools, is under more obligation to his government than the civil employee, whose tuition and board have to be paid for in private schools and colleges. A fellow can't live very high on $1,200 a year, and if his dependents have good appetites he will have to cut down the three square meals a day, and sleep on shucks instead of feathers.

CAPITAL SOCIETY EVENTS

THE President and Mrs. Coolidge received the members of the American Society of International Law yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the White House.

Mrs. Dawes, wife of the Vice President, was the honor guest at luncheon yesterday of Mrs. Moses, wife of Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, who entertained a company of 34 at the Willard hotel.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Wilbur will go this evening for an overnight cruise down the river in the Sylph. They will have as their guests Mrs. W. J. Jamison, St. Paul, St. Regent of Minnesota, of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and her daughter, Miss Alice Jamison, who is a page at the D. A. R. congress.

Baroness de Cartier, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium, sailed last evening at midnight on the Majestic, for Europe. The Ambassador was not able to go to New York as he had planned.

Mme. Riano, wife of the Ambassador of Spain, returned Thursday evening to Washington from a trip of several weeks to the West Indies.

The Misses de Graef, daughters of the Minister of the Netherlands and Mme. de Graef, entertained an informal party at the theater last evening for Miss Helene Hellmann and Miss Claire Hellmann, who are in Washington for a short time.

Entertainers at Luncheon.

The charge d'affaires of Cuba, Senor Don Jose T. Baron, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the embassy in honor of Dr. Antonio Sanchez de Bustamante, of Havana, who is a former member of the Cuban senate and judge of the permanent world court, and is professor of international law of the University of Havana. The other guests were the director general of the Pan-American Union, Dr. Leo S. Rowe, Dr. James Brown Scott, Dr. Pedro Martinez Fraga, of Havana, who accompanied Dr. de Bustamante, Dr. Guillermo Sherwell and some of the members of the embassy staff.

Dr. de Bustamante and Dr. Fraga departed for New York last evening and will sail for Cuba today.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Otis have announced in St. Paul the engagement of their daughter, Miss Clara Louise Otis, to Mr. Bruce Burnham Harris, son of Mr. Newton M. Harris, of Champaign, Ill. Miss Otis is the niece of the Secretary of State and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, and has often been their guest in Washington. She made her debut December 28 at a ball at the St. Paul hotel, which was attended by the Secretary and Mrs. Kellogg. She was graduated from Miss Spence's school in New York in 1924, and also attended Pine Manor. Mr. Harris is a graduate of Yale university, class of 1923. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant entertained a company of 20 guests at dinner last evening at her home.

Mrs. Hamilton Hawkins, wife of Col. Hawkins, will depart May 15 for West Point, where she will remain for a month. Her daughter, Miss Nancy Hawkins, and Col. Hawkins will join her there later.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. D. Hancock entertained a company of 12 guests at dinner last evening at their home in honor of Capt. Gilbert Frankau, English novelist. Capt. Frankau, who is in Washington for a few days, will depart tomorrow for Chicago.

Mrs. Carl R. Chindblom, wife of Representative Chindblom, is passing a few days in and around Lewisburg, W. Va., where she will give a piano recital at the Greenbrier College for Women this afternoon. She will return to Washington Monday.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. George Leonard Smith will depart today by motor to open their country home at Woodstock, N. Y. They will return to Washington the first of May for a short time before departing for the summer.

Waggamans Give Oyster Roast. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Waggaman entertained a company of 100 guests last evening at the Columbia Country club at an oyster roast followed by dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Pembroke Thom have as their guest their niece, Miss Mildred Willford. Miss Barrine Drake will be hostess at luncheon Monday at the Mayflower hotel in honor of Miss Willford.

Senator Richard Ernst will entertain 12 for dinner at the Congress-sional Country club tomorrow evening.

The Director of the National Parks Service and Mrs. Stephen Mather entertained at dinner in the Florentine room of the Wardman Park hotel last evening, in honor of Miss Annie Florence Brown, of Oakland, Calif. Miss Brown, who is president of the Oakland forum, is a graduate of California university, and the 30 guests invited to meet her were also California graduates who are in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Parker are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son yesterday. Mrs. Parker was, before her marriage, Miss Virginia Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Edwards.

Among the guests at the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Courtland Nixon were Mrs. John L. Hines, Mrs. Dennis E. Nolan, Mrs. Harry Lyon, Mrs. T. N. Gimpelring, Mrs. John B. Bennett and Mrs. Charles S. Thomas.

Miss Blanche Gaffney, of Columbus, Ga., is at the Willard hotel with her mother, who is State treasurer of the Georgia Daughters of the American Revolution, and who is a delegate to the national congress of the D. A. R.

Mrs. E. J. Dorn will not be at home today, as she is passing the week-end with Mrs. C. G. Halpine, at Annapolis.

Dinner-Dance Tonight.

Mrs. Ernest A. Heron, of Oakland, Calif., who has been passing the spring at the Wardman Park hotel, will entertain at the dinner dance tonight, when her sister, Mrs. L. H. Parker, of Racine, Wis., and Maj. and Mrs. W. S. Wells, of Washington, will act as joint hosts.

Maj. and Mrs. W. E. Farris, of New Orleans, La., arrived Friday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Watkins for several days.

Mrs. William Leonard Thurber has issued invitations to a bridge luncheon to be held at her home in Chevy Chase Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Jeter C. Pritchard. There will be 16 guests.

Mrs. Charles Bruce Williams, of Culpeper, Va., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lucille Williams, to Mr. Palmer Newcomb Stearns, of Fairfax, Va., April 30. Mr. and Mrs. Stearns will be at home after May 1 at Fairfax.

Dr. and Mrs. Fenton Bradford entertained a company of 20 guests at a buffet supper and bridge last evening in compliment to Miss Lilian Ingram, of Lexington, Ky., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William F. Zumburum.

Miss Annie M. Wilson, director of drawing in the public grade and high school, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the Art Promoters club tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at 2011 I street northwest. Other guests will be Mr. A. H. Lewis, principal of the Business High school; Mrs. Davis, Miss M. P. Bradshaw, Miss Estelle

ENGLISH IS ORDERED TO ANSWER CHARGES IN SENATE ON MAY 3

Date of Judge's Trial Will Be Fixed After the House Makes Its Reply.

SPECIAL SESSION OPENS WIDE GAP OF OPINION

Vice President and Members Are Sworn; Blease Takes Oath.

(By Associated Press.)

A summons was issued yesterday by the Senate for Federal Judge George W. English, of the Eastern Illinois district, to appear at its bar on May 3 to answer the House impeachment charges of usurpation of power and other "high misdemeanors" in office.

This action was taken after the Senate, for the first time in 13 years, had resolved itself into a trial court and had again received the managers for the House, who are to conduct the prosecution of the case against the judge.

After Judge English appears in person and by counsel, he will be given time to prepare an answer to the charges, if he so desires. When this answer is filed with the Senate the House will adopt a reply, and upon its presentation to the Senate the time for the trial will be fixed.

Session Still Disputed.

Whether the hearing is to be a special session of the Senate, with the House in adjournment, either early in the summer or late in the fall, is a question still to be decided. This question was debated briefly, and a wide difference of opinion as to the legality of such a proceeding developed.

The impeachment charges against Judge English were presented to the Senate by the House managers, and as required by law the Senate organized itself into a court with Senator Cummings, Republican, Iowa, the venerable chairman of the Judiciary committee, administering the special trial oath to Vice President Dawes. The Vice President, in turn, administered the same oath to Senators as they came to the dias in groups of ten.

Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, who has asked to be relieved from sitting at the trial because of his close personal friendship of Representative Dominick.

Policeman Dismissed; Another Suspended

The District commissioners yesterday removed Probationary Patrolman Richard J. Lang, who is alleged to have assaulted his wife Sunday night, from the police department, and concurred in the suspension, by Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, of Patrolman Paul A. McDuffie, who shot his wife Saturday, pending hearing of charges against him by the police trial board.

Acting Sergeant J. R. Moore, of the fire department, was promoted to sergeant and Richard C. O'Connor was appointed a class 1 private for a probationary period of one year, to take Moore's place.

Democrat, South Carolina, a member of the House investigating committee, took the oath with the last group. When his name was called, Senator Williams, Republican, Missouri, called attention that the rules required all Senators to take the oath irrespective of what action might subsequently be taken on their requests to be excused from acting as a judge.

FEES AMENDMENT VOTED IN FARM BILL

Withholding Levy Two Years Adopted by Committee; Fund Set at $375,000,000.

(By Associated Press.)

Application of the most debated feature of pending farm relief legislation, the equalization fee on agricultural commodities, would be withheld for two years under an amendment to the Haugen bill, adopted yesterday by the House agriculture committee. At the end of that period the fee would be levied automatically on wheat, cotton, corn, cattle and swine. Meanwhile, the measure would require the proposed Federal board to maintain the price of each basic product at the world market quotation plus the import tariff. During the two years, any losses involved would be borne by the Federal treasury, and to assure an adequate revolving fund, Chairman Haugen said he would move to raise the appropriation from $250,000,000 to $350,000,000. Members indicated there would be no opposition to this. At the committee's night session the suggestion of Chairman Haugen, that the revolving fund in his bill be increased, was adopted, the amount being fixed at $375,000,000. Another amendment agreed upon would deny the proposed Federal farm board authority to buy and sell farm products directly, specifying that marketing be done through cooperative association or other farm agencies.

Today I want to give you a recipe that came to us at the time of the last contest from Mrs. Marjory Maine, of 1217 Park road, who is willing to share it. Mrs. Maine has used it successfully for many years and she says it explodes the theory that the ingredients of good pie crust must be ice cold. The paste may be made at night for the next day or may be used in an hour.

Rather than a menu let us have for today a number of recipes to add to our file. With spring comes the need for the lighter edibles—things that are easily prepared and that may be made ready for dinner early in the day. There are many such recipes, here are a few of them.

Letters continue to pour in with contributions for the contest and they contain the most inspiring recipes. I am tempted by each and every one to try it immediately. It will be difficult indeed to come to a decision—they are all so splendid.

Pie Crust With Boiling Water.

Beat 1 cup of lard, 1 teaspoon salt and ½ cup boiling water until light and creamy and then add 3 cups sifted flour. Mix well and place in the refrigerator. This may be used in an hour or kept over night and used the next day. Always uniform, light and flaky. (Mrs. Maine.)

Apple Ginger.

Wipe, core, peel and chop sour apples, there should be two pounds of the chopped pulp. Place in a steppan with one and a quarter pounds of brown sugar, the juice and grated rind of a lemon and from a quarter to a half ounce of ginger root. Add also a pinch of salt and sufficient water to prevent the apples from burning. Cover and cook slowly four hours and from time to time add water as it becomes necessary. Apple ginger may be kept in a cool place for an almost unlimited length of time.

Maple Parfait.

Beat four eggs slightly and pour on them slowly one cup of hot maple syrup. Cook this mixture in a double boiler until it thickens and then thoroughly cool it. Add to one pint of cream that has been whipped and pack in a mold. Pack the mold in salt and ice and let stand three hours.

This form of frozen dessert is especially desirable during the warm weather because of the minimum amount of labor entailed. No ice cream freezer is necessary—a coffee can and bucket of any sort will serve the purpose. Surround the coffee can in which you have placed the mixture to be frozen with cracked ice and plenty of ice cream salt and cover the bucket with several newspapers folded closely about it. Mousse is as delicious as it is easy and not so expensive when you consider that no embellishments are necessary.

Jellied Chicken.

Clean and cut up a 3 to 4 ½ pound fowl and stew very slowly with an onion, a bay leaf and two peppercorns for a sufficient length of time to permit the bones being pulled easily from the meat. (When half done add a half teaspoonful salt.) Reduce the stock in which the chicken has been cooked to one cup, remove fat, strain and set aside. Remove bones and skin from the meat and press the meat from the mold. In the bottom of the mold may be placed halves of hard boiled eggs, parsley and pimento. Pour the stock over the meat, cover closely and place in the icebox for several hours. Remove to a chilled platter and garnish with lettuce leaves and mayonnaise.

Cream Meringues.

Whip four egg whites until very stiff and add 1 pound of powdered sugar, and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Continue beating for several moments. Mound the mixture on a piece of stiff letter paper in tiny round mounds not larger than the size of two eggs and be sure to place them at least an inch apart. Place the letter paper in a large flat pan and put your meringues in the oven without closing the door entirely. Watch them closely and when they are a light yellow take them out and cool them quickly. Slip a thin-bladed knife under each, scoop out the soft inside and fill with cream whipped and flavored as for Charlotte russe.

RULES OF CONTEST

First Prize, $5; Second Prize, $2.
1.—All contributions in prize contest must be received by Thursday, April 29, 1926.
2.—On the sheet of paper on which appears the recipe submitted nothing but the name and address of the contributor may appear. An additional communication must be on a separate sheet of paper.
3.—One recipe per person only may be entered in the contest.
4.—Recipes submitted must be for cake or pie. No other recipes are eligible.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

AN APOLOGY TO MRS. JONATHAN.

I WANT to be fair to Mrs. Jonathan Edwards, for I find the lady has a world of friends. Recently, a correspondent wrote me asking whether a child was bound to be immoral because her mother was immoral. I don't think so.

I might have said that and stopped. I wanted to be more hopeful and inspiring and I added a statement that a long list of moral, upright and exceptionally able people had descended from the immoral wife of Jonathan Edwards.

In that statement I was wrong. I made it somewhat incidentally, quoting from memory from Davenport's "Heredity and Eugenics." But the friends of Mrs. Jonathan Edwards did not regard the statement as an incident. The fact is that Davenport's statement relates to the wife of Richard Edwards, who was the grandmother of Jonathan. The facts clear Mrs. Jonathan Edwards, but they make matters a little worse for Jonathan. For my correspondent they are better. If Sarah, the careless wife of Richard, could propagate Timothy and thus make Jonathan and his illustrious tribe possible, my correspondent can feel happy over the possibilities in the case mentioned. My apologies to the memory of Mrs. Jonathan Edwards.

But while we are on the subject, suppose we add further proof that an immoral woman may beget highly moral, worthwhile children. Dr. Bacon dug up the official records which proved that Abraham Lincoln's grandmother was an immoral woman. She bore an illegitimate child, Nancy Hanks. After that she was twice indicted by the grand jury for immorality. After being found guilty and after bearing Nancy illegitimately, she married and begot a high-grade family.

Rarely has a person been so carefully studied after death as has Nancy Hanks. Out of it all, Nancy has come with an established reputation as an upright, moral, conscientious woman, true to her husband in every relation of life. She bore one child who reached maturity and that was Abraham Lincoln. No other man in history has had his private life so carefully and so laboriously studied. Every part of it has been studied on the seamy side. While Abraham Lincoln had his faults and shortcomings, nothing in his life even remotely suggests that he inherited immorality from his grandmother.

Some time ago I wrote a story of the descendants of a man who owned a large part of his county—something of a feudal lord. The grandchildren of that man were "poor white trash."

Not even that fact closes the book of possibilities.

Thomas Lincoln was descended from people of some wealth and of excellent standing. But Thomas Lincoln kept slipping downward almost all of his life. In Elizabeth town, he was a carpenter and a man having been a poor, struggling, losing farmer. In Indiana, he was still poorer. By the time he reached Coles county, Illinois, and for the remainder of his life he was "poor white trash," and yet he was the father of Abraham Lincoln.

RINGWORM.

M. J. writes: Please explain the cause of ringworm and also give remedy for same?

REPLY.

The cause is a parasite which grows in the skin. This parasite is apt to get into the skin by means of a hair shaft.

Simple causes are cured by painting with iodine and following that with the use of sulphur ointment. More difficult cases require X-rays and other more technical treatment.

EVE IN PARIS

Dearest Claribel:

It's the funniest thing, the way these smart Englishwomen sometimes start a vogue even here in France. The first of my sketches shows you one of them—a sports hat that I've just seen in Cannes. It was worn first by Miss Brighton and it is becoming very popular.

©VOGUE

Really and truly, it's just a man's hat with the brim cut away to suit the face and worn turned down all round. Some of Miss B's imitators wear the brim 2 inches wide, but most of them use the scissors a bit more. It's terribly chic, if you can carry it off. But my advice is—look before you leap!

©VOGUE

The hanky is a figured chiffon—any color you like—and makes a decoration around the neck, dripping out of a casual pocket or just held in the hand. One or two varied combinations can do a lot for a plain beige outfit like mine, I do assure you.

©VOGUE

My third attempt can't do justice to the original—nobody could. It began life as a bra constrictor patterned in gray and black on almost pure white. Then it died and went to heaven, where it woke up as the very smartest shoe in Paris at the moment. Imagine, please, one of these "chic Parisiennes," all in black, with a few winking diamonds, gray stockings, those shoes and a bag to match? She makes every one else look like a full-blown rose the morning after—and she knows it! * * * When are you coming over?

As ever,

EVE.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD

Bianche Must Act.

APPARENTLY there are many women who suffer very patiently great ill-treatment before they seek relief. When Bianche wrote of being assured by her husband how much he loved her one moment, and being forbidden by him to go to the grocery store the next moment under threat of violence, we felt the case was unusual, but should be dealt with nevertheless. Since then dozens of women have written in to advise Bianche. We hope that poor Bianche will heed the advice.

Dear Miss McDonald:—I have just read Bianche's letter and your suggestion that the man might have a mental case. This is a mental case. I lived with a man of this type for eleven long dreary years; family pride kept me from leaving him until he ruined my health and I was a wreck both mentally and physically. I at last suspected that he was unbalanced, and that people laughed when I hinted at such a thing; he was shrewd and cunning and a "good fellow" to every one and it was only when we were alone that he would torture me with his suspicions and accusations. I was never allowed to go anywhere alone; my friends were not good enough for me, even my family came under the ban. My health became so bad that my family doctor finally drew the truth from me. He then arranged to have this man examined for mental trouble and three doctors examined him at different times and under different pretexts. They all pronounced him insane but said it was of a type that was not apparent to any but specialists and that in my case it was merely a question of whether I wanted to spend the rest of my life under such conditions or whether I was willing to make the break and leave him. They said he would never change for the better but would gradually get worse; not likely to go violently insane, but always queer and for the most part "plain devilish."

I took their advice and left him. Had to begin my life all over again and go back to work, which I was only too happy to do. Please tell Bianche not to waste any more of her life trying to do the impossible, for she will never be able to change this man. Three years ago I married "the right man" and it is like being in heaven after being in hell. My only regret is those wasted years. But Bianche's case is exactly like mine; practically every word of it fits my case, and I know it is so useless for her to struggle or to try to improve conditions and I do hope this word of mine can save her the years of unhappiness that I put in.

This is called the paranoid type of insanity; he will never be any different. There are many people in the world like this; nothing can be done; they can not be confined to institutions as they are sane in every other respect. My former husband is prosperous and successful—but not fit to be any woman's husband.

Is there any way you can send Bianche this letter so that she may have the benefit of my experience? All three doctors advised me to leave the man I married as they said I would lose my health and possibly my reason if I continued to live with him.

Conduct and Common Sense

The shy people, who are anxious for information on "How to be friendly," are much harder to answer than those whose desire for ease makes them overeasy. What can be said to a correspondent, who is at a complete loss for reply to the old formula of the departing guest, "I've had such a pleasant time." If she does not find her tongue responding mechanically, "I'm so glad you enjoyed it," or, "I'm so glad you could come," or simply, "I'm so glad," she might as well not have a tongue. If she is too shy to use it, a smile as she shakes hands might be taken as an answer. If several people happen to be saying good night at the same time, no one will miss the spoken word.

We generally stress sincerity, but there is, of course, a traditional politeness used to cover cases where the sincere would be to show unnecessary rudeness. (And, by the way, to be rude with purpose is

Beauty and You

Powders for the Girl With Auburn Hair.

The girl who has auburn hair or who has a claim at all to Titian coloring should strive to give her skin a light, transparent look.

She can help to gain this effect by a right choice of powders. Frequently, she makes the mistake of using a rachel or an ochre powder. This had better be left to the brunette, and the auburn-haired woman should look to the roses, the naturals, and the mauves in her face powder.

If she is very, very fair, she may have the same range of colorings that the blonde has in face powder—a natural for daytime, a lavender for evening. But, if her skin is inclined to be a bit dark, let her use a judicious mixture of natural and rachel for the day, and the same with just a dash of mauve for evening. Never, never should a red-haired lady use a dead-white powder. It makes her look—well, not quite a lady.

(Next week the beauty editor will tell the best way to apply face powder.)

Love Confessions of Famous Men

"La Mouché."

When the brilliant literary lion of Paris, the astonishing Heinrich Heine, lay entombed in his chamber, waiting for the death that would put an end to suffering imposed by an incurable malady, there entered a ray of sunshine in the form of Camille Seldou, a French writer. She came there on an errand for a friend and she remained to cheer the last days of the great poet.

As she appeared in the dingy apartment it seemed to Heine as if some of the brightness of the world he could no more know came to him. He relived in her those days when he had dominated gatherings of the great by the wonder of his personality.

What impression Heine made upon her is hard to tell. Perhaps it was pity; perhaps it was the honor of being associated with an immortal.

But Heine left documentary evidence of the emotions "La Mouché," as he called her, aroused in him. Often Camille absented herself for protracted intervals and then the sick man fretted and grieved. It was in one of these moments that he wrote her these words, which reveal to what extent he had grown to love her:

"Tear my sides, my chest, my face, with red-hot pinners; flay me alive, shoot, stone me, rather than keep me waiting. With all imaginative torture cruelly break my limbs, but do not keep me waiting, for of all torments, disappointed expectation is the most painful."

"I expected you all yesterday afternoon until 6 o'clock, but thou didst not come and I grieved almost mad. Impatience enricled me like the folds of a viper and I bounded on my couch at every ring of the bell."

MODISH MITZI

How much of a chance do you think Dad has of reading his paper in peace and quiet when Mitzi wants to go to the theater? You are completely correct. Mitzi has a new evening frock of black chiffon over pink (the color combination of the moment) and she intends to wear it where it can be seen.

What the Ladies of the Evening Wear

If a play is not also a fashion show the charm of the drama means little to our heroine. This is a particularly satisfactory play. In the first act the leading lady wears, as you can see, one of the "smoking" costumes for evening—made of plain and brocaded gold metal cloth. Gorgeous, really.

(All rights protected by The George Matthews Adams Service—Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

In the second act the ingenue justifies her existence, if not her acting, by wearing, in the way should be worn, a gown of painted black chiffon trimmed with swirls of ribbon and a tremendous puff of ribbon on one shoulder. This is the popular evening silhouette for maidens who are young and slender.

This, of course, is the most fascinating costume of the evening. It is a new pajama-negligee ensemble with trouser legs snugly fitted and a loose, straight coat. It is by all odds the smartest negligee style that has come out of Paris for several seasons—Dad approves of it as "quite sensible."

Action at Albany Causes Traction List to Falter

By S. S. FONTAINE.

New York, April 23.—Traction stocks, which have been the strong feature of the market for several days, faltered today following the announcement that the Thayer bill, which was designed to relieve the traction companies from paying charges, had been recomputed, which meant that it has been killed for this session. These charges have been very heavy and considering the growing bus competition, have been a very serious drawback to the efforts of the surface companies to make both ends meet, especially when one end is in the Battery and the other in the home of the North End Lights, with a 5-cent fare betwixt and between.

It was pointed out today that if the bill had passed, it would have reduced paying charges of street railways in the State by over 70 per cent. Thus the average reduction in Third Avenue's paying charges in the last three years, with such a law in effect, would have been $345,217. It would have been $424,978 for 1925 alone, $378,571 for 1924 and $232,096 for 1923.

In 1925 Third Avenue showed a deficit after interest on adjustment income bonds of $102,138; in 1924 a net income of $75,262, and in 1923 a net income of $301,276. If a law had been in effect as now proposed, Third Avenue's net income in 1925 would have been $322,840, in 1924, $453,833, and in 1923, $533,373, equal respectively to $1.34, $2.73 and $3.21 a share on the company's $16,500,000 outstanding stock. There is an accumulation in back interest on the $22,536,000 adjustment 5 per cent income bonds of about 23 per cent, or $5,183,280.

In the eight months ended with February the company showed a deficit after interest on adjustment income bonds of $18,898 compared with a deficit of $181,669 in the similar period last year.

According to a statement made today in Wall street, United Tobacco Co., which has been chartered in Delaware with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, 7 per cent preferred, and 2,000,000 common shares, is sponsoring a bill which would organize the United Cigar Stores Corporation of America and the Tobacco Products Corporation.

Plans for development of the company are still in a formative stage and much development work would be worked out, but in a general way, the organizers contemplate entering the retail merchandising of tobacco. Present intentions of the organizers give indication of the manufacturing end of the industry, but terms of the charter permit it to enter this branch any time course is deemed expedient.

In all probability, one of the first moves will be an offer for the outstanding common shares of the United Cigar Stores Co. of America but held in the treasury of the Tobacco Products Corporation. Such offer is under consideration but no definite decision has been reached.

None of the preferred has been issued, nor is any offering contemplated.

NEW YORK COTTON.
New York, April 23 (By A. P.).—The cotton market made a generally steady showing today. After selling off early to 18.06, July rallied and closed at 18.15 compared with 18.10 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady at advances of 2 to 5 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 3 points, active months selling at 8 to 10 points lower in the first few minutes and by liquidation by recent buyers, combined with Southern and local selling.

The latter probably was influenced by reports that additional Southern mills planned to curtail their production 25 per cent after the first of May and Manchester cable advised stating that spinners of American cotton in Lancashire had been advised to close their mills for the week beginning May 1.

These features, however, seemed to be offset by feeling that under conditions were not altogether settled and the market firmed up at midday in prospect for lower temperatures in the Southwest. There also appeared to be an apprehension that the cooler weather would be accompanied or followed by showery conditions in the Southwest.

The market showed considerable firmness although trading was not active. May sold up to 18.10 and October to 17.42, making net advances of about 8 to 11 points on the general list but a decline was checked at these figures by realizing. The close was 5 to 6 points higher than yesterday.

A report on the boll weevil showing relatively light emergence during the first half of April seemed to have little, if any, immediate effect on the market. Traders found no special incentive in the week-end statistics.

plated. It has been found practicable to finance with bonds and any necessary financing will take this form. Of the 2,000,000 authorized common shares, 500,000 have been issued to the organizers. They will have no public offering of the common shares.

W. Eric Lord, secretary of the Polish chamber of commerce, announced today that the Polish political crisis has passed, as the president has refused to accept the resignation of his ministry. The following official radio communication was received today from Warsaw:

"The government crisis caused by the withdrawal of the two socialist ministers has passed. The president of the republic refused to accept the resignation of the government, giving as his reason the necessity of an immediate carrying through of state necessities, before the budget, and the necessity of maintaining the continuity of the financial policy which is directed to the ultimate balance of the budget and stabilization of the zloty."

The socialist party leaders voted to withdraw from the support of the Skrzyszkowski government—a coalition—being unwilling to support the program of the minister of finance. The two socialist ministers, Zimowski, minister of labor, and Barleki, minister of public works, have withdrawn from the cabinet. The program of the minister of finance provided for drastic economies to balance the budget, the socialists objecting to provision for reducing the unnecessarily large personnel of the state railroad, and slight reductions in the pay of government officials and employees.

The upturn in American Safety Razor, which was pronounced at times during the session, appeared to be based on expectations of a highly favorable report for the first quarter and the belief that directors at their meeting scheduled for some time in May will do something more than declare the regular dividend at the rate of $3 annually. According to the last report of the company, the consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 1925, showed current assets of $3,259,303 and current liabilities of $627,540. The last item included the last installment of new mortgage bonds falling due March 1 for $350,000, leaving a net working capital of $2,621,763. Earnings for the first quarter of 1926 are estimated to be equal to $1.75 a share, which would be a little less than the $1.80 a share paid in 1925. On February 25, last, by a decision of the United States tax appeals court, American Safety Razor was relieved of a liability of $1,000,000 against which it had set aside a reserve of $1,000,000. Including interest, this would be the equivalent of $5 a share on the stock, which is now available for distribution to stockholders.

Whether or not the directors at their meeting will reinstate the reserve, the owners in the shape of a distribution of this fund, is a question. Judging from the action of the stock, however, it would appear that something along this line is under consideration.

MARK NEW BULL MOVE

RAILS AND INDUSTRIALS CONTINUE UPWARD WHEN THE MARKET CLOSES.

FRACTIONS ARE SET BACK

Special to The Washington Post.
New York, April 23.—The stock market boomed upward today, the expected reduction in the Federal reserve bank discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent giving the market the incentive required to continue the recovery which had been in progress for several days. The bear element was caught napping by the development, and they had to frantically for some issues in their rush to cover.

The public, displaying increasing interest in the earlier sessions of the week, came into the market in greater force than at any previous time since the generally dismaying March break, was emboldened by its stocks with renewed confidence. Enthusiasm in the market had been a world demand pushed stocks into a high ground for the movement, with gains in numerous instances ranging up to 6 points and in special instances anywhere from 12 to 20 points.

Trading was in huge volume for the first time in some days, the turnover topping 2,500,000 shares. Overnight gains were substantial. The upward rush was continued through the forenoon, but after midday the market suffered a check when Wall Street learned that two important bills affecting financial interests had been killed in the New York State legislature. One was the Mastic bill legalizing certain public utility franchises, the other was the Mastic bill legalizing certain public utility franchises, the other was the Mastic bill legalizing certain public utility franchises.

That announcement explained the heavy buying of the shares in the last few days which sent them up today to a new high price for the movement. They dipped 3½ points in the late dealings, however, other financial stocks, particularly the general market, forged steadily ahead under the lead of the standard railroad and industrial shares.

Enthusiasm was maintained by announcement that a similar bill legalizing the common stock of the General Electric Co. had been adopted by the directors. That announcement explained the heavy buying of the shares in the last few days which sent them up today to a new high price for the movement. They dipped 3½ points in the late dealings, however, other financial stocks, particularly the general market, forged steadily ahead under the lead of the standard railroad and industrial shares.

Big Four common gained 12 points on a few sales, but the price lost 40 points. United Fruit stock, made the maximum gain, the common closing 29½ points net, higher, just under 280, and the new stock finishing five points up. National Tea, American Safety Razor, American Type Foundry, Adams Express, Associated Oil, Allied Chemical, Stromberg-Carlson and Famous Players-Lasky preferred were other strong stocks.

Sterling was a shade lower, but French francs recovered points while Belgian francs were losing much. Norwegian kroner yielded 16 points. Pesetas dropped 7 points. The Peruvian pound dropped 8 cents here, and 16 cents in London. Other South American rates were firm. Yen went lower on profit taking. Chinese silver exchanges rallied sharply.

COACH GORDON RATH'S Eastern High track team took first places in eleven of the twelve events on the program and made a clean sweep of five in handball, Western's elder athletes an 89-19 defeat in yesterday's dual meet in the Eastern High stadium.

For the most part the marks were below the scholastic average but despite the one-sided score, the events were hard fought.

The best time was made in the 880-yard run which brought out a field of nine starters. Eastern took all three places—Suter, Didden and O'Brien finishing in the order named, with Suter being clocked at 2 minutes and 15 seconds.

Don Conner, of Eastern, was the highest individual scorer, with 15 points. He won in the high jump, 120 high hurdles and discus, and took second in the javelin throw.

JOE COSIMANO'S victory in the 220 low hurdles and javelin throw, second in the discus and third in the shot put gave him second point honors with 14 points.

Elliott scored the only first place for Western when he went to nine feet 3 inches in the pole vault. He also gained third position in the high jump.

In the quarter-mile run, H. Talbert sprang a surprise when he came from behind to defeat R. Talbert, his brother. The time for the event was 57.4-10 seconds.

PLANSKY FIRST IN DECATHLON; TWO G. U. RELAY TEAMS LOSE

had clinched by giving Dowding a 3-yard lead.

THE race was run in heats, three teams running in each. Princeton's winning time over Georgetown was 42.3 seconds. In its winning effort the Pennsylvania quartet was only one-tenth of a second from the world record, doing the distance in 42 flat.

The teams were given places according to their time, and in the final analysis Pennsylvania was the winner, Penn State second, and Princeton was third.

The sprint medley race was the feature of the day, with Columbia just nosing out Georgetown for the honors. A great quarter by Jimmy Burgess gave Georgetown the lead, and Capt. Hass and Ascher, who ran the 220 legs, each kept in the van. Swinburne became boxed shortly after he started his half-mile lap.

Swinburne finally freed himself in the last lap around the oval, and he and Campbell, of Columbia, came down the stretch neck and neck, but Eddie could not quite get up in the stretch and Campbell broke the tape a scant yard ahead of the Georgetown star.

S. Greenafelt, Georgetown's two-miler, did not get to the mark at the start of the race. However, he started about three-quarters of a lap late, and after running around three times, dropped out. The race was won by Loucks, of Syracuse, over Chapman, Wisconsin's little distance star. The time was 9 minutes 28 seconds.

A field of six contestants started in the decathlon and Emerson Norton, who finished second to Plansky in this event last year, was one of the dozen newcomers who did not participate. His back is still weak from an injury received in the indoor season, and Coach O'Reilly deemed it advisable to hold him out of the strenuous ordeal.

THE decathlon performers had the meet to themselves this morning and five of their ten events were run off. First in these five, winning the shot put and was second in the 100 meters and broad jump, while he finished third in the 400 meters and tied for third in the high jump.

At the end of the morning Doherty, of the City college of Detroit, was leading with a total of 2,697.677 points. Plansky was in second place with 3,681.895, and Elliott was approximately 60 points behind Tony.

Doherty won but one first in the morning events, outjumping the field in the high jump at 5 feet 10 inches. The best Plansky could do was 5 feet 5 inches. Doherty was consistent and piled up a goodly total of points in each of the other events to take the lead.

Elliott drew a large following by his splendid work in the 100 meters and the broad jump, when he broke both decathlon records. He turned the 100 meters in 11.4, which gave him a total of 899.60, beating Plansky's mark of 762.00 points last year. Elliott left the take-off 22 feet 4 1/2 inches behind his heel marks in the broad jump for his other mark.

Plansky surprised even his most ardent supporters in the pole vault when he cleared the bar at 10 feet 8 1/2 inches, which gave him a tie for second place with Sturtridge and Huntsman. Elliott won the event at 11 feet. Doherty was far out of it with only 9 feet, which practically eliminated him from further consideration.

TO make victory apparently safe Tony outdid himself in the javelin by not only surpassing his field, but eclipsing the record by more than 100 points. Tony's winning distance was 185 feet 3 1/2 inches. Huntsman was second to Plansky in this event, with Doherty third. Sturtridge and Elliott finished fourth and fifth, respectively.

Although Sturtridge won the 110 meter hurdles and Doherty beat him by more than 19 points in this event, Plansky came back strong in the discus, the second decathlon event of the afternoon and established himself safely in the lead.

Big Tony hurled the platter 126 feet 1/2 inch for a new decathlon record, which gave him 741.823 points, nearly 200 more than Sturtridge, who finished second. Both Doherty and Elliott were far back in this event, each being 250 or more points behind Tony.

Plansky went little faster than a walk in the 1,500 meter run, but he did not have to, for he already had the arduous test well in hand. Huntsman won the race from Sturtridge in a good finish. Doherty was third, and Elliott fourth.

David Hedekin Wins For Army Tennis Team
Cadet David D. Hedekin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hedekin, 502 Maple Ridge road, Bethesda, Md., took part in the West Point-Amherst tennis match at the United States Military Academy this week, which ended in a three-five tie.

Cadet Hedekin won from Blanchard, of Amherst, in singles, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, and displayed a fine brand of tennis. He was a member of the Academy tennis squad of 1924 and 1925 and a member of its boxing squad in 1924.

Petworth Nine Plays Soldiers Tomorrow
Petworth A. C. nine will journey to Fort Washington tomorrow, meeting the soldier nine of that post in its first game of the season. All players of the Petworth team are requested to report at the Washington Barracks wharf at 11:30 o'clock.

Manager Buck Geier announces that Edlin, Kines and Phipps will divide mound duties.

Harvard Tennis Team Beats Dumbarton, 8-1
Harvard university's tennis team scored its third victory of the week yesterday, defeating the Dumbarton club players, 8 matches to 1, in the first game played on the club's new Georgetown courts. J. S. Whitbeck, of Harvard, winner of a set over Tilden in the South, had a hard time defeating Robert Burwell. The score was 4-6, 6-4, 6-1. Purinton won the only match for the local team.

Singles—J. S. Whitbeck (H.) defeated R. Burwell (D.), 4-6, 6-4, 6-1; G. H. Perkins (H.) defeated A. D. White (D.), 4-6, 6-3, 6-4; J. A. Purinton (H.) defeated V. T. Smith (D.), 5-7, 6-4, 6-2; T. M. Lehart (H.) defeated M. Harner (D.), 6-3, 6-3, 6-2; L. H. Jordan (H.) defeated Paul Harding (D.), 6-4, 6-4, 6-4; L. O. Pratt (H.) defeated Hugh Miller (D.), 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles—Whitbeck and Gordon (H.) defeated Harner and Burwell (D.), 6-4, 6-4; Lehart and Smith (H.) defeated Pratt and Gore (D.), 6-1, 3-6, 6-3; Pratt and Perkins (H.) defeated Carr and Harding (D.), 6-1, 6-4.

NATS SOLVE GROVE, BEAT MACKS, 9 TO 5

to become 3 up in the third, when two runs were coined from Goslin's opening single, J. Harris' double and Bluege's clout to the score board, which counted the pair and enabled Ossie to reach third, where he was out. With two down in the lower half, Lamar singled and stole and Hauser coaxed a pass, but both were left.

Round four saw the end of Pate and the arrival of Heimach on the bill for the A's. The former's exit was due to Johnson's double, two hit batsmen and Judge's single which counted two, giving the Harriers an 8-to-3 lead. The Quakers reduced this advantage by one in their turn as a result of doubles by Welch and Heimach.

THE Harriers' fifth frame efforts netted them another tally on Bluege's single. Myers' suicide, Bluege's safe fielder's choice and Johnson's stinging one-baser to center. Then Joe Hauser met one and scored the A's second homer of the year.

It was a prodigious clout which landed on top of the houses outside the park in right. Simmons followed with a triple, but died praying for help.

Neither team threatened again until the eighth when, with only one dead, Cochran came through with his second triple and Hauser drew a pass. Both were left, however, when Hauser popped to Bluege and Bishop fled weakly to S. Harris.

Hale thought he had started a belated rally in the home ninth, but the next three went down in order, Johnson fanning Simmons to end the game.

MOOSE JRS. IN TWIN BILL.
A double-header will be played by the Moose Juniors tomorrow on the Seaman Gunners' field. The Thistle Junior nine will be met in the first game, at 1 o'clock and the Cardinals at 3 o'clock. All Moose players are requested to report at Manager Nally's home, 1254 Eleventh street southeast, at 12:15 o'clock.

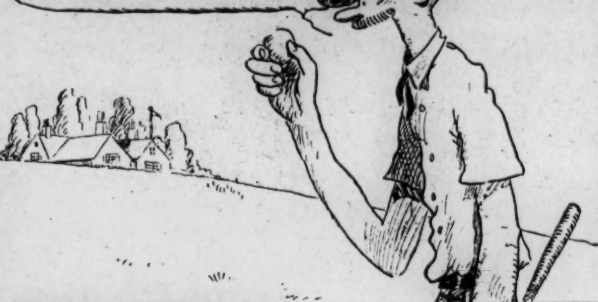

TAKOMA TIGERS ACTIVE.
The Takoma Tigers will oppose the Wilkins Juniors team on the Silver Spring field today at 3 o'clock. The Tigers will play the Southern Juniors tomorrow on the Washington Barracks field at 3 o'clock. For games telephone Columbia 3590.

SOUTHERN VS. MT. PLEASANT.
The Southern Juniors are scheduled to play the Mount Pleasant Juniors on the South Ellipse field today at 2:30 o'clock. The Southern's manager requests all players to report at the playing field not later than 2 o'clock.

ONTARIO FORCE TWO GAMES.
The Ontario Juniors will engage the Meridain nine in a practice game today on the South Ellipse field at 2:30 o'clock, and play the Aztec team tomorrow on diamond No. 4 of the Monument grounds at 3 o'clock. Chatwick will pitch both games.

CHANGES IN ZONING LAW ON COMMUNITY HOUSES DEFERRED

Amendment Letting Type Into
"A" Restricted Areas to Be Redrafted.

NEW "AA" SECTION ALSO WANTED BY COMMISSION

Reservoir Street Proposal Refused; Several Other Plans Are Approved.

Amendment of the zoning regulations to let community houses into "A" restricted residential area and create a new "AA" restricted area that will exclude not only community, but also semidetached houses, was held up by the zoning commission yesterday following Thursday's public hearing.

The amendments will be redrafted and submitted to another hearing before being passed on. The reason for the delay was that the commission desired not merely to create the new type of zoning, but also to make it possible to let community houses into some neighborhoods now zoned against them.

Opposition to the latter amendment at the public hearing moved the commission to make another attempt to phrase the measure in such a way as to overcome opposition.

Changes Opposed.

The commission refused to change the zoning of Reservoir street, between Wisconsin avenue and Thirty-fourth street northwest, so as to permit erection of two-story apartment houses.

The following changes were approved: North side of Gallatin street northwest, from Georgia avenue to High street, commercial to residential; a lot on the west side of Blair road northwest, between Aspen and Butternut streets, both sides of I street northwest, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth street, the square bounded by Washington court, and Blair, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets northeast, the east side of East Capitol street, from Fifty-third street to Fifty-third place, the west side of Fourth street northeast, from T street to Todd place, and the northwest corner of South Capitol and N streets, residential to commercial.

To Be Residential.

Both sides of Division avenue northeast, between Blaine and Foote streets, area bounded by Rhode Island avenue, Brentwood road and Tenth and Bryant streets northeast, the north side of Rhode Island avenue northeast, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets and the east side of Twelfth street northeast, between Evans street and Rhode Island avenue, commercial to residential.

The west side of Fourth street northeast, between W street and Rhode Island avenue, residential B to residential C and first commercial C; property bounded by Eleventh street, Park road and Florida and Sherman avenues and the east side of Sherman avenue, from Park road to Euclid street, from B area to C area.

Lieut. Young Wins Life-Saving Medal

Second Lieut. Robert N. Young, of this city, has been awarded a silver life-saving medal by the Treasury Department for rescuing three persons from drowning at the Bayamon-Santuree causeway near San Juan, Porto Rico, December 5, 1925.

A delivery truck with three passengers went off the road into the water, and Lieut. Young, in full uniform and wearing riding boots, jumped into the water, rescued a boy of 12, then plunged back and brought out a boy of 8 and dived in a third time, releasing a man from the interior of the cage of the submerged truck. Lieut. Young was born in the District of Columbia January 1, 1900. His father is Robert H. Young, 1626 Newton street northwest.

Man Charged With 17 Burglaries Is Held

Paul Grayzi, alias Paul Amis, who is alleged to have been responsible for seventeen house burglaries in the District, was held for the grand jury yesterday by Judge MacDonald in police court under $25,000 bond on two of the charges. Grayzi was arrested last Tuesday.

Crash of Navy Plane Being Investigated

The crash of a consolidated training and seaplane near Anacostia, Friday, in which Lieut. Comdr. A. C. Davis, bureau of aeronautics, and Commander W. W. Wilson, bureau of ordnance, escaped without injury, was investigated yesterday by naval officials.

Motor trouble forced a hasty descent and the plane stalled to make the water, the pontoons striking the ground and wrecking the plane.

Pair Snatch Man's Watch

Daniel Nixon, 809 Second street northwest, told police yesterday that while he was standing at Second and S streets northwest, two colored men approached him and asked the way to Second and I streets. While he was directing the men, Nixon told police, they snatched his watch from his pocket and disappeared.

Boy, 2, Attacked by Dog

While playing on the sidewalk in front of his home yesterday, Lyman Leich, Jr., 2 years old, 2312 Minnesota avenue southeast, was attacked by a stray dog. The animal bit him on the forehead. The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Frank Braden, 628 East Capitol street, by his father.

Davenport Speaks At Women's Guild

Representative Frederick M. Davenport, of New York, was the principal speaker at a banquet last night at the Women's Residence hall, American university, under auspices of the women's guild of the university. His subject was "America Among the Nations."

Mrs. W. F. McDowell, wife of Bishop McDowell, and Miss Winifred Willard, of the financing section board of education, Methodist Episcopal Church, also addressed the gathering of about 200. Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, president of the guild, presided. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. George B. Woods, chairman; Mrs. John Nicholson and Mrs. H. B. Moulton.

INCREASED PENSION FIGURES SUBMITTED

Estimated Cost to Government of Employees' Bill Will Go to President.

Figures showing the estimated cost to the government of several plans for liberalization of the United States employees' retirement act, prepared by government actuaries, at the request of President Coolidge, were received by Brig. Gen. Lord, director of the budget, yesterday. They will be given to President Coolidge today.

The figures presented include an estimate of the cost to the government of the Lehibach liberalization bill, now in committee in the Senate. These figures, which were not made public, will be studied by the President as a means of arriving at a definite conclusion of his position in respect to liberalization of the retirement act. The President had been asked on numerous occasions as to his position in regard to this subject, but had declined to commit himself to any one proposal until he had been shown definitely just what each plan would cost the government.

Bathing Beach Fund Believed in Danger

Considerable concern is shown over the possibility of failure of a $345,000 appropriation being included in the second congressional deficiency bill providing for District bathing beaches. Failure of this means delay in the bathing beach plan, and even should funds be made available, it is questioned whether the two beaches contemplated in the Senate plan could be prepared for use this season.

It is not yet decided whether pools will be excavated in one of the reservations such as Rock Creek park or whether beaches will be arranged along the Potomac or Anacostia rivers. Legislation, it is understood, does not specify sites beyond the provision that no land be purchased for locations. The fine arts commission must also be consulted regarding landscape and architectural matters.

Former Officer Says Fence Not For Spite

Capt. Gustave J. Van Lennep, former army officer who occupies the old Waggoner mansion at Thirty-third and O streets northwest, whose neighbor Mrs. Lila L. Dennis sued him to prevent the alleged erection of a spite fence between their properties, denied yesterday in equity court that the fence is for any purpose other than to keep trespassers off his property.

Through Attorney Max Rhoads, Capt. Van Lennep says that the fence is a wire affair and will not interfere with the light and air on Mrs. Dennis' property. Moreover, Capt. Van Lennep declares, he obtained a permit from the District government to erect the fence. He also says that Mrs. Dennis did not file her injunction suit in good faith, but merely to annoy him.

Robison Heads Navy Board on Promotion

Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison, U. S. N., commander in chief of the United States fleet, has been named by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur as president of a board of selection to recommend officers of the line for promotion to the grades of rear admiral, captain and commander to be convened June 7.

Other members of the board will be Rear Admirals Thomas Washington, San Francisco; Ashley H. Robertson, San Diego; Henry A. Wiley of this city; Thomas P. Maquar, Philadelphia; William C. Cole, Norfolk; Montgomery M. Taylor, Charles B. McVay and William A. Moffett of this city. Commander Randall Jacobs will be recorder.

Collapse of Wall Buries Two Workers

While working on a building being constructed at Georgia avenue and Euclid street yesterday afternoon, Robert Walker, colored, 46 years old, 2623 Sherman avenue northwest, and Leon Richards, colored, 18 years old, 2726 Georgia avenue northwest, were buried under a pile of bricks when the east wall of the building caved in.

The men were rescued by fellow laborers and taken to Freedmen's hospital. Walker was treated for fractured leg. Richards received bruises on the body and a possible fracture of the ankle. They are not in a serious condition.

MAY DAY PROGRAM IS BEING PLANNED

Exercises at Central High Stadium to Open Child Welfare Week.

An elaborate May day program is in preparation, to take place next Saturday in the Central High school stadium. It is part of the observance on a national scale under the auspices of the National Child Health association, headed by Secretary Hoover.

There will be a Maypole dance, a children's circus, music by the Marine band and a chorus of 300 children and other exercises. The District commissioners have issued a proclamation asking citizens to support the effort to call attention to the cause of child welfare.

The Merchants & Manufacturers association has issued a call to its members to aid throughout the week following May day, which has been designated child welfare week, by window displays calling attention to the needs and welfare of children.

Alleged Liquor Car Overtakes; Man Hurt

Sidney Thomas, colored, of Waldorf, Md., was injured yesterday when an alleged liquor car in which police say he was riding collided with an automobile driven by William J. Meredith, of Annapolis, Md., at Suttland road and Camden street southeast. Police say that the alleged liquor car was going 60 miles an hour and that it turned over the side after the collision. The driver escaped. Thomas was pinned beneath the wrecked automobile.

He was taken to Providence hospital and treated for injuries to the hip. Later he was taken to Gallinger hospital, where police placed him under arrest on charges of illegal possession and transporting whisky. Police say that they found 24 cases of alleged corn whisky in the car. Meredith was uninjured.

Rutgers Debaters Lose to Georgetown

Opposing establishment of an independent united air service, the debating team of Georgetown university won the verdict by a unanimous decision of the judges in a contest held last night with Rutgers university debaters, in Gaston hall.

The Georgetown debaters comprised Thomas P. Loughlin, Walter J. Thompson and Anthony B. Brennan. Joseph A. Kazak was alternate. Representing Rutgers were M. Licaut, Julius Christensen, and Harry Selzer. Charles E. Roach, professor at the Georgetown law school, was chairman, and the judges were: Chief Justice George E. Martin, of the District Court of Appeals; Chief Justice Edward J. Campbell, of the Court of Claims; Associate Justice Wendell P. Stafford, of the District Supreme court; Huston Thompson, of the Federal Trade Commission, and Henry J. Swinhart, former president of the National Press club.

Bell Wants Army Engineer in Group

Lieut. Col. J. Franklin Bell, engineer commissioner, yesterday expressed disappointment that the bill pending before Congress for a reorganized public utilities commission does not provide that one of its members shall be a United States army engineer. He says that omission will deprive the District of opportunity to have Maj. W. E. R. Covell, his present assistant in utility matters, as a member of the commission.

"I went without an assistant for six months to get Maj. Covell," said Col. Bell. "His services to the utilities commission and the public have proved invaluable."

Reduction of Traffic Arrests Is Advised

The District commissioners yesterday received joint recommendations for reduction of the number of traffic arrests from Director of Traffic M. O. Eldridge and Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police.

No decision was made, the commissioners taking the recommendations under advisement. Their nature was not revealed. It is said, however, that no important change in regulations was recommended, the principal one being elimination of morning and evening rush-hour parking in certain downtown sections of F and G streets and New York avenue.

NAVY TO HOLD TESTS.

Examinations Will Be Given to Fill Mechanical Positions.

To fill vacancies in the navy yard service, the civil service commission has announced open competitive examinations for apprentices in mechanical trades such as blacksmith, boiler, cooper, electrician, machinist, wood modelmaker, optical glass plate and gauge maker, painter and patternmaker.

Applicants must have reached their sixteenth, but not their twenty-second birthday, on the date of the examination. Competitors will be rated on mental and mechanical aptitude tests.

INTERNATIONAL LAW CODIFICATION HELD REMOTE POSSIBILITY

American Society Speakers Say That It Will Take Years of Effort.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES
PRESIDES AT SESSION

Cable Law Severely Criticized as Depriving Women of Citizenship Rights.

Codification of international law will require the most aggressive efforts of the jurists of all nations for years which cannot yet be counted. This thought was stressed at an all-day discussion by delegates attending the twentieth annual meeting of the American Society of International Law yesterday at the Willard.

Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State, who presided at the session last night, stated that "in the proposition of codification the society has a thing which it may well be assumed will occupy its attention for a long time to come."

In the session last night, Dr. Antonio S. de Bustamante, professor of international law at the University of Havana, Cuba, brought to the delegates the message of a vision presented in the possibilities of a Pan-American codification of law. According to the trend of his address, a code of laws which would bind together all the Americas, free nations of a single character, might be the right way of access to a world-embracing international code.

Greetings From Cuba.

Dr. Bustamante brought to the meeting the greetings of the president of Cuba, who expressed his gratification at the efforts for the codification of international law, which the government of Cuba, he said, considered "a pressing necessity to the American world."

George W. Wickersham, of the New York bar, speaking on the progress of codification under the auspices of the League of Nations, gave a comprehensive view of the task attempted in the matter of codification.

Mr. Wickersham spoke at length on nationality, which was discussed in the round table conference in the afternoon session. He severely criticized the Cable act of 1922, which made a radical change in respect to the citizenship of married women, either foreign women marrying Americans or American women marrying aliens.

Women and Law.

Under the provisions of the Cable act, a foreign woman who marries a citizen of the United States loses the processes of naturalization in order to secure citizenship, while an American woman who marries an alien retains her American citizenship unless she does some "overt act" toward renouncing it. The law passed largely through the efforts of women's organizations. Mr. Wickersham said:

"It does seem quite extraordinary that one of the products of the newly conferred franchise of women should have been the enactment of such a measure as this, contributing, as it does, powerfully towards the destruction of that unity of the marriage relationship which for centuries has been the foundation stone of the State."

"The most serious and disquieting development of our time is the conversion of marriage into a casual partnership between men and women in absolute disregard of its effect upon the offspring of the union. To this destruction of the permanency of marriage this recent congressional legislation has contributed in no slight degree."

Cable Act Criticized.

In the afternoon discussion, James W. Garner, of Illinois, said: "The Cable act has created many women without countries. It has put the legislation of the United States in conflict with the legislation practically of the rest of the world. We all sympathize with the point of view of the women who had the law enacted, yet I venture to say they never foresaw the injustice that has been done to the members of their own sex and the male sex."

It was revealed during the conference that the proposed disapproval of the functioning of the law, although it is said that women generally consider it an improvement over the old law. Its complications have caused loss of property, dual nationalities, divided nationalities, and as a result a ceaseless amount of trouble. The tenor of the conference was that it should be amended.

Late in the afternoon the delegates were received by President Coolidge at the White House. The meeting will close with the annual dinner at the hotel tonight, at which Vice President Dawes will speak.

Two Weeks' Extension Granted in Peter Suit

The suit of Mrs. Anna W. Peter for an accounting by her husband, Armistead Peter, Jr., of a fortune of approximately $2,000,000, was scheduled to be argued in court yesterday, but it was announced that the attorneys had been given an extension of two weeks.

Persons familiar with the case regarded the extension of time as an indication that efforts are being made to settle the suit out of court. Should the case ever be aired, they say, it would be embarrassing for both Mrs. Peter and Mr. Peter.

Ships to Be Raised.

Permission to raise and remove the battleship Alabama, now sunk in Chesapeake bay about six and a half miles off Tangier island, has been granted the Union Shipbuilding Co., Baltimore, by Secretary of War Davis. The Alabama was turned over to the War Department and sunk in the bombing tests of 1923.
